brotherhoods had not indorsed Director General Hines.

"But I'll say this," he added, "if we could have secured the man we wanted I doubt seriously if he would have gone as far in his efforts to operate successfully the roads as Mr. Hines."

The Plumb plan was denounced in the senate today by Senator Myers, democrat, of Montana, as an attempt to "sovietize" American industry.

"There has long been conducted an inaudible effort to teach bolshevism and anarchism in this country," said Senator Myers. "I have wondered who would take it upon himself to put in concrete form the issue of bolshevism. As long as it was abstract, I feared no danger. The veil of mystery has been lifted. I am sorry to say that it falls to the railroad brotherhoods to present a concrete test of bolshevism against Americanism. I am ready to meet that test—to sacrifice both my political and physical strength if necessary—rather than be a party to sovietizing this country's industries."

"The issue now is bolshevism against Americanism. It cannot be dodged or side-stepped. There is no middle ground."

Washington, Aug. 12.—The Plumb plan for tri-partite control of the railroads is "vicious" and there is nothing akin to it outside of bolshevik Russia, Senator Pomerene, democrat, Ohio, declared in a letter sent to officials of the railroad brotherhoods in Ohio and made public here today.

Declaring the plan was "worse than socialism," Senator Pomerene said the American people would never approve it "or anything akin to it," and added:

"The public does not want to be skinned, but if it must be skinned it will make little difference whether it is by Wall street or by the methods provided for in the proposed Plumb plan."

PROPERLY PROUD OF HOTEL

Citizens of Alexandria, La., Have Right to Boast of Their Magnificent Caravansary.

Alexandria, La., is known throughout the South as the little town with the big hotel. Strangers always remark the incongruity of the metropolitan edifice apparently fallen by accident into this quiet little place.

It seems that in Alexandria's ante-hotel days, a wealthy man and his small dog were stopping at the town inn. One day the innkeeper and guest had a lively argument over the dog. Its owner replied that he and his dog would not be among those present at the inn in the future and departed proudly, intimating darkly that the innkeeper would be sorry. He then made good his threat by building a hotel such as Alexandria had never dreamed of seeing, and here dog and master took up their residence and gathered to themselves all the transient trade of the town.

Alexandria wears its hotel proudly, a trifle self-consciously. It is the show place of the town and its assertive stone grandeur commands respect and deference. A town that boasts a hotel inclosing marble halls ending in a grand staircase and a Spanish patio adorned with a fountain as an extra attraction must assume an air of dignity in keeping with its importance.

Alexandria's other claim to notice is the fact that only a few years ago the Louisiana legislature conducted a series of spirited arguments as to the removal of the state capital from Baton Rouge to Alexandria. In the end Alexandria lost out and was forced to console itself with the fame it acquired from its big hotel.

EXPLAINS CAUSE OF MYOPIA

Physician Asserts It is Caused by Obstruction of Outflow of Lymph, Due to Muscular Effort.

The assumption that close application is the cause of myopia or near-sightedness is not regarded as a satisfactory explanation. In a recent number of the Lancet the theory is advocated by Dr. Ethridge Green that the primary and essential cause is an obstruction of the outflow of the lymph. The obstruction may be produced by severe muscular effort, such as lifting heavy weights, when a feeling of tension is always experienced in the eyes, which appear, in extreme cases, to be starting from the head. This is more especially the cause of progressive myopia among warehouse men, porters and others whose work involves excessive effort, while with those engaged in sedentary occupations the form of exercise taken may be responsible, as, wrestling, rowing, digging and also coughing. Thus when signs of commencing myopia appear anything likely to increase the intraocular tension should be avoided. There is no need to avoid reading.

Houses of Presidents.

In connection with the efforts to restore the birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt, at 28 East Twentieth street, New York, it is recalled that an attempt was made several years ago to acquire the old house in which President James Monroe died. The project never got beyond the placing in 1905 of a memorial tablet on the house.

The old house, one of the archaic structures in the city, and much the worse through years of neglect, is on the northwest corner of Lafayette and Prince streets. For years the lower portion was used as a junk shop. It still presents the characteristics of the well-to-do residence during the early part of the last century—three stories high, with dormer windows protruding from the attic. The house was built by Samuel L. Gouverneur, who married one of Monroe's daughters.

The Green-Eyed Monster.

Europe's growing jealousy of America is revealing itself more plainly every day. Even France is not immune from the propaganda of the green-eyed monster, for Le Matin, one of the largest and most influential of Paris newspapers, has come forward with the assertion that the jazz band idea did not originate in the United States, but that French cuts were trained to emit the same kind of discords more than a century ago. We expect to be informed next that the Declaration of Independence was copied from a French almanac, and that Abraham Lincoln's famous Gettysburg oration won second prize at a French high school commencement in the era of Louis XIV.

Where Gasoline Can't Go.

The automobile may have won at Verdun, says the billets and remounts division, but the horse has won more victories than he has hairs on his topknot—for, say they, no victory could have been attained, no push could have succeeded, unless the horse was on the job to pull the guns forward, to take up the rations, the water, the ammunition, through mud where trucks could not go, or over shell-swept ground equally impassable for the gasoline vehicle.—Stars and Stripes.

PIGS AND ADVERTISING A GOOD COMBINATION

Corvallis, Aug. 11.—"A few little pigs for sale" was the announcement put in the Corvallis Gazette-Times by George Armstrong, a Benton county farmer. The G-T of July 31 gives the sequence as follows: "In truth he didn't know how many he was going to have for sale, but two litters totaling 18 pigs came along and from that advertisement which cost him $1.20 he sold 17 of those little pigs at $9 a head. How is that for pigs and advertising?"

REDS MADE WHOLESALE ARRESTS AT PETROGRAD

Washington, Aug. 12.—It is reported that bolsheviks invaded all the consulates and legations at Petrograd and Moscow and arrested foreigners by the wholesale early in June.
