BURN OF EMPRESS' DREAM

Persian Legend Concerning the Design and Construction of the Beautiful Taj Mahal.

A beautiful story, which is not generally known, of the creation of the Taj Mahal is hidden away in the pages of the Persian manuscripts. The emperor wished to commemorate his undying devotion and esteem for his beloved consort, but nothing satisfied his ambition, until one day Arjuman told him that in a dream she had seen the noblest and most perfect of monuments, which if actualized, would be unparalleled in the whole world for its matchless beauty. The emperor sent for experts from all over the empire and commanded them to design the architecture of the dream. They labored to no effect; they could not visualize the dream. At last one day an old venerable Pir ascetic presented himself, who said: "I can help you to obtain what you seek."

He then presented a mysterious potion to one of the architects, before whose dazzled eyes the lovely monument in all its glory was revealed. The magic of the potion lasted while he drew the plan in all its detail, then he fell back exhausted. The empress, seeing the design of her vision realized, was full of joy and the emperor at once set to work to have this edifice constructed. The impossibility of laying a firm foundation next presented itself. The swampy character of the banks of the silvery Jumna made it impossible to erect any construction that would stand, until, in another dream, it was revealed that the basis must be of silver. Today the Taj stands like an ethereal drop of flawless pearl, on its foundation of solid silver—breathing forth the poetry of its conception:

"Sweeter to rest together dead,
 Far sweeter than to live asunder."

COURT AT LEAST CONSISTENT

Judge Remitted Fine When He Committed Indiscretion for Which He Punished Lawyer.

Our famous president, Abraham Lincoln, during his early career as a lawyer, traveled a circuit in Illinois. Judge David Davis and Lincoln were close friends, says the author of "Lincoln's Own Stories," and the judge always showed a keen appreciation of Lincoln's stories.

"I was never fined but once for contempt of court," said a man who was a clerk of court in Lincoln's day. "Davis fined me five dollars. Mr. Lincoln had just come in, and leaning over my desk, had told me a story so irresistibly funny that I broke out in a loud laugh. The judge called me to order, saying—

"This must be stopped. Mr. Lincoln, you are constantly disturbing this court with your stories."

"Then he said to me:

"You may fine yourself five dollars."

"I apologized to the court, but told the judge that the story was worth the money. Shortly afterwards the judge called me to him.

"What was that story Lincoln told to you?" he asked.

"I told him, and he laughed aloud, in spite of himself.

"Remit your fine!" he ordered."

One O'Clock.

The Dog Star and Aldebaran, pointing to the restless Pleiades, were half way up the southern sky, and between them hung Orion, which gorgeous constellation never burnt more vividly than now, as it swung itself forth above the rim of the landscape. Castor and Pollux with their quiet shine were almost on the meridian; the barren and gloomy square of Pegasus was creeping round to the northwest; far away through the plantation, Vega sparkled like a lamp, suspended amid the leafless trees, and Cassiopeia's chair stood dimly poised on the uppermost boughs. "One o'clock," said Gabriel.—Thomas Hardy.

PLANE FOR BUDDING AVIATOR

Well Called the Penguin, Since It Moves Fast on Ground, but Is Unable to Fly.

Do you know what a penguin is? You may have read of it, but probably never have seen one. The penguin is an aquatic bird found in the polar regions. It is remarkable for its peculiar structure. It has only stumps in place of wings and, for that reason, is unable to fly. But it is a good walker and an expert swimmer and diver. The name of "penguin" has also been given to the training apparatus employed to teach prospective aviators the control of the airplane or seaplane. The name is well chosen. The penguin used for training is as unable to fly as its arctic namesake. It consists of an airplane with wings so very small that the power of the motor is unable to lift the airplane off the ground or water. It is supplied with ailerons, elevator, rudder and wheels exceptionally strong for running on the ground. The apprentice is encouraged to run this "penguin" to his heart's content; there is no danger that it will take to the air. In a short time he graduates to a real airplane that can and does fly, and then he can give all his attention to the flying part without having to worry over the handling of the various controls. The sense of safety he enjoys while learning is a great nerve sedative to the inexperienced aviator.

REMEDIES CALL FOR FAITH

Truly Weird and Wonderful Are Some "Cures" for Various Ills of the Human Body.

Weird and wonderful are the remedies advised in different parts of the world for diseases which affect humanity.

Sufferers from rheumatism may be pleased to hear that there are people who claim to have found a sure cure for their malady by binding split unekerel around the affected part.

The town of Lee, in England, still has on record the famous cure known as the "Lee Penny." This coin was brought from the Holy Land by a Crusader. On many occasions when the health of the people has been threatened this penny has been used. "Three dips and one swirl" in a bucket of water were supposed to endow the liquid with healing properties.

In many parts of Europe it is thought that passing under an ass, a child suffering from whooping cough will bring instant relief.

Almost every one has heard of the curing of warts by touching them with a wedding ring. This "cure" is perhaps not so well known: Make the sign of the cross on a wart, at the same time chanting: "What I see, that I wish; what I wish, that disappears."

Uncrowned English Queens.

There have been several uncrowned queens of England. The first was Margaret of France, the second wife of Edward I. Money was scarce in the government coffers at the time, and Edward could not afford the expense of a coronation. The four later wives of Henry VIII, Anne Boleyn's successors—Jane Seymour, Anne of Cleves, Catherine Howard and Catherine Parr—were never publicly crowned as queen consorts. Henrietta Marie, the wife of Charles I, being a strict Catholic, refused to take part in a state function which would compel her to partake of the sacrament according to the rites of the Church of England. Sophia Dorothen, the wife of George I, and mother of George II, was never recognized as queen of England and therefore can not be classed as one of Britain's uncrowned queens. Caroline of Brunswick, the wife of George IV, was not permitted to be present in Westminster hall at his coronation.

Original "Lone Tree."

There was an immense cottonwood, four feet thick and forty tall, which stood in Nebraska almost in the center of the continent, half way between New York and San Francisco, which was within one mile of that center. Under its branches rested thousands of '40-ers en route to the Eldorado of the Pacific coast. It was the best-known camping ground on the old California trail. From 1829, when the gold seekers rushed across the great plains down to the completion of the Union Pacific railway, the great tree was a gulldrop to the wagon trains going west.

After the railway was completed there was no further use for the old tree and it eventually rotted away and died. In 1910 a monument was erected on the spot that the tree had occupied. It represents the trunk of a giant cottonwood and bears this inscription: "On this spot stood the original Lone Tree on the old California trail."

Relief for the Nervous.

The treatment for nervous disorders is diversion. Attention transferred and directed into new channels, new friends, new faces, new scenes, new habits, changed sleeping rooms, new notions, everything radically altered and wholly different will in time relieve almost all such conditions.
