

RETROSPECTION

There is little difference in the message we have for you each day, and yet we want to impress you with the fact that money is the hub around which the world moves, lives, and has its being.

Opportunity never comes to the careless man, advancement never comes to the lazy ones. Arouse yourself, put ginger into your work and the habit of Saving will come naturally to you.

BIG CROWDS OPENING OF OREGON THEATRE

Last night was the opening of the Oregon Theatre, formerly the Joy, in its old location on G street near Fifth. For many weeks the building has been undergoing repairs. The entrance is now on the street level with seats lowered to the front. The box office is now at the side, instead of at the center, and the entrance to the operating room is at the side, giving additional space for the lobby. A complete new heating plant has been put in and the ventilating system improved.

The opening day was marked by big houses at the afternoon matinee and the evening performances and scores of patrons were compelled to stand in the lobby until the close of the first show, as each one of the 250 seats were occupied.

At the matinee each child was presented with a toy balloon.

Three Girls On Hiking Trip—

Hiking is a popular sport this summer, and seems quite the way to spend a vacation. Three young women from Corvallis were in Grants Pass today on their way to Crater Lake. They went to Bandon from Corvallis and hiked down the coast to Crescent City. Two of the young women, Miss Iles and Mrs. Katherine Haight, were former students at O. A. C. and the other, Miss Lillian George, is a member of the staff of the college library. They are delighted with the scenery along the way and expect to stop here and visit the Josephine Caves before returning to their home.
