

"Give me a lever long enough
And a prop strong enough,
I can single-handed move the world."
—Archimedes.

You may not be able to move the world but you may make for yourself a prop strong enough to hold you and yours in comfort and happiness by saving a part of your income each day. We will help you.

UNIVERSAL CLAMPS

What do you do with your Kodak when taking a time, or bulb exposure? It is not always possible to find a solid place to stand your kodak. Then you need a tripod. Or if you object to carrying a tripod, one of those smaller devices, which clamp onto anything upright, is indispensable.

Owing to the present excellent condition of the roads the Grants Pass & Crescent City Stage Co. will take you to Crescent City or return for $5. 75tf

Robbers Taken at Glendale—

Edward Perkins and Williams Gordan, the two Glendale auto thieves who broke out of the county jail Sunday morning, were captured at 11:30 Tuesday morning in Glendale by the city marshal of that place after they were identified as the missing men by "Maj." Hanks. It seems Hanks accompanied Sheriff Quine to Redding some days ago to bring the two men to this place and so was able to identify them positively this morning when they were hauled off of a southbound freight train. The car which Perkins and Gordan stole from the Glendale garage some weeks ago belonged to Hanks, and he went with the sheriff after the stolen machine, driving it back to Glendale with the two thieves handcuffed in the back seat. Roseburg News.

J. E. Bartlett—

Of the Peoples Electric Store, Medford, Oregon, will be in this territory, still selling Standard Electrical equipment—same goods, better prices—your needs will be given our utmost consideration. 75tf

Miss Dunlap is well known in Grants Pass, having lived here for a number of years before going to California. The dance was the occasion of a general get-together of old school mates and friends, and was a very enjoyable affair. Punch was served during the evening. The guests were: Mesdames August Goetsche, Merle Dyer, U. L. Upson, Russell Jennings, Harry Webber, Misses Lona Dunlap, Olive Paterson, Helen Layton, Peggy Hylander, Leah Slover, Maree Edwards, Rose Wickman.

$100 REWARD

Sometime between the 10th and 17th of September, 1919, a pressed steel boat about 16 feet long was stolen from D. G. C. MacNeill whose lodge is situated on the river about one mile above the Ament dam. The boat was manufactured by the Mullins Company of Ohio, as shown by the plate on the gunwale. This is the only boat on the river of the kind and should be easy of identification.

Mr. MacNeill will pay the above reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the thieves. Address all information to the undersigned.

PRODUCTION

"For Better, For Worse"

An ARTCRAFT Picture

"DeMILLE'S FINEST ACHIEVEMENT"

"There is no denying the artistic and commercial value of such a story. DeMille's direction has given it the tempo, distinction and perfect play of every feature required. A distinct advance for the man who directed it; rich in matter that lies close to the heart of today."—Edward Weitzel, in Moving Picture World.

"Any DeMille photoplay is a delight, but 'For Better, for Worse' seems just a little more so than its predecessors."—S. M. Weller, in New York Review.

"No Cupid's dart ever found its mark with greater accuracy than does DeMille in 'For Better, for Worse.'"—Motion Picture News.

"DeMille has come nearer to sounding a true note in 'For Better, for Worse' than in any of his others."—New York Times.

"The finest example of screen drama, as it should be made."—Exhibitor's Herald.

"Cecil DeMille has added a masterpiece to the studies of domestic problems."—New York Globe.

All the other critics say the same.
