BELGIUM PREPARING TO QUIT GERMANS

Brussels, Sept. 26.—The time of reckoning for German criminals is approaching. The Belgian department of justice is hastening work on the list of enemy subjects accused of violations of the laws of war and of international law. The treaty of Versailles gives to Belgium the right to demand extradition of these persons but it must be done within one month after ratification.

The preparation of the list of persons to be extradited is a delicate task. The documentary evidence is necessarily incomplete as to the identity of particular persons. Many crimes were committed by troops and the individual authors in numerous cases were unidentified or their chief unknown. However, the treaty allows considerable leeway in that it permits extradition by designating guilty ones by their titles or employment. Judges have been making inquiries and a commission, instituted by royal decree on February 15, 1919, is continuing its investigation of all infractions committed by Germans. Instructions have just been given to hasten the work.

OMAHA MAYOR HUNG BY MOB

deputies held the fort in the top story of the courthouse, where is located the jail, with a hundred prisoners, until the building became a seething mass of flames and he was forced to submit.

At 11 o'clock, after Brown had been hung to an electric light pole, the firemen were, for the first time, able to get a stream on the flames. At the same time additional extension ladders were sent to the third and fourth floors, where many of the occupants were standing on window ledges on the one side of the building that had not yet been touched by the flames.

The assault with which William Brown was charged was committed on Ames Lobeck early in the week. With an escort, crippled beyond the point of resistance, Miss Lobeck met her assailant a few blocks from home in the southeast part of the city. He held the couple up at the point of a revolver. After robbing the young man he assaulted the young woman in his presence, holding a revolver at the head of her escort in the meantime.

DEPUTIES AT ROME HAVE A 10-MINUTE FIGHT

Rome, Sept. 25.—A ten minute fight interrupted a debate in the chamber of deputies here today. One hundred deputies participated. Some people believe the cabinet may resign rather than plunge the country into a struggle during the general election.

GEMS FOUND IN LETTERS OF LATE T. ROOSEVELT

New York, Sept. 26.—Delving into the mine of 150,000 letters which Theodore Roosevelt wrote during his public career, Joseph Bucklin Bishop, the Colonel's biographer, in the October issue of Scribner's Magazine, brings to light a number of "gems" in the intimate correspondence between the former president of the United States and Sir George Otto Trevelyan, Bart., O. M., English statesman and author, with whom the great American enjoyed a rare friendship covering 20 years. Statements and apothegms characteristically Rooseveltian abound in this collection of letters. Some of them are here reproduced for the first time in any newspaper:

"A great free people owes it to itself and to mankind not to sink into helplessness before the powers of evil."
"Unfortunately for us, small men do most of the historic teaching in the colleges. The great historian must have the scientific spirit, able to marshal and weigh the facts."
"The presidential office tends to put a premium upon a man's keeping out of trouble rather than upon his accomplishing results. The electorate is very apt to vote with its back to the future."

"I do not think the average American multi-millionaire a very high type and I do not much admire him. On the whole our people are, spiritually as well as materially, on the average better and not worse off than they were 100 years ago."

"Each man knows where his own shoe pinches. I have had a most vivid realization of what it must have meant to Abraham Lincoln, in the midst of the heartbreaking anxieties of the Civil War, to have to take up his time trying to satisfy candidates for postmaster."

"There are numerous and grave evils incident to free government, but after all is said and done I cannot imagine any real man being willing to live under any other system."

"Benedict Arnold! What a base web was shot through the woof of his wild daring! He was at heart a Lucifer, that child of thunder and lover of the battle's hottest heat."
"The more I read Carlyle the more hearty grows my contempt for his shrieking defecation of shams."

"I have never understood public men who get nervous about assassination. (Written shortly after the attack upon his life in Milwaukee in 1912). For the last 11 years I have, of course, understood that I might at any time be shot and probably would be shot some time. I think I have come off uncommonly well. I cannot understand any serious-minded public man not being so absorbed in the great and vital questions with which he has to deal as to exclude thoughts of assassination. It is not a question of courage."

Colonel Roosevelt, in what was probably one of his last letters to Sir George in 1918, referred to the fact that his four sons and a son-in-law were fighting for the allies. After referring to them in terms of affection and that he would not for anything "have them anywhere else" he concluded: "I fear we would welcome their return home, each with an arm or a leg off, so that they could feel that they had played their parts manfully—and yet we could have them back."

RED CROSS EXPLAINS SELLING OF MATERIAL

Paris, Sept. 25.—Because many inaccurate reports of large sales of American Red Cross merchandise have appeared in the past few weeks, Red Cross headquarters in Paris has issued a statement explaining that the only materials which have been sold are certain perishables, second-hand equipment, surplus stock and articles which can no longer be used for direct relief work, either in France or in Eastern Europe.

CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR AFTER THE ALIENS

JACK JOHNSON IN ACTION DOWN IN OLD MEXICO

How We Go At It

First we lock into the battery to see if you put water in it.

Then we use the hydrometer which is the one reliable way of knowing the condition of its charge.

Then, if no special cause of trouble appears we put it on the line to see if it will take a charge.

But if there is plain indication of serious trouble we open the battery up and find out exactly what's what.

Don't trust your battery to amateurs or artists in guesswork, who claim they can tell inside condition by outside inspection.

Come here where you find adequate machines and apparatus to really inspect, charge and repair any battery.
