WRANGLE OVER FIUME AFFAIR

Senator Lodge Asks President's Spokesman "When Did We Declare War Upon Italy?"

Rome, Sept. 30.—American marines are maintaining order in the city of Spalato, Dalmatia, where Rear Admiral Andrews is stationed with the flagship Pittsburg. Feeling between the Italians and the Jugos-Slavs is running high and the Americans were forced to intervene.

Washington, Sept. 30.—Two resolutions relating to the landing of American sailors at Trau, Dalmatia, after Italian forces had taken possession of the port, were introduced in the senate today and precipitated spirited debate. One by Senator Sherman, republican, Illinois, would declare unwarranted "interference by the United States with the Italian boundary," and that an action by the landing forces would have no binding force on the American government. It was referred to the foreign relations committee. Another resolution by Senator New, republican, Indiana, would request the state department to inform the senate at "the earliest possible moment," as to the truth of reports that the landing of the Americans was made under orders from British admiralty. Upon request of Senators Hitchcock, Nebraska and Thomas, Colorado, democrats, the measure went over until tomorrow.

Discussing his resolution Senator Sherman said this country had been "so long proceeding under the function of a league of nations not yet formed, that it was departing from the old line of government."

"Great Britain," he declared, "is delivering orders to the United States navy in Italian waters. I refuse to recognize its authority since the revolution."

GRANTS PASS HAS AGAIN MADE GOOD

Solicitors Collect $350.47 to Help Build Home for Motherless and Homeless Babies

Grants Pass has again made a record of her interest in state-wide endeavor for public good by rolling up a creditable sum in the "Be-a-Brick-Buy-a-Brick" campaign.

The committee in charge of yesterday's drive placed to the credit of the Pacific Coast Rescue and Protective Society $350.47, with more to come. The solicitors were a tired, but happy bunch as they brought in their reports of districts covered. Only one small territory of the town remains unsolicited. Circumstances at the last minute caused the workers to fail. The committee is looking for volunteers who will solicit this territory on Wednesday—Call 533-R for information.

The business men, we are sure, feel by this time that it would pay to put on a force of women collectors. We, in the name of the homeless and unfortunate ones, thank both those who have given and those who had a desire to give. We wish also to thank the Courier for the generous space given and feel indebted.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 30.—The Junior Red Cross, the organization which is the children's and teachers' department of the American Red Cross, received approval today from President Wilson, who has issued the following proclamation in relation to the enrollment campaign now being carried on:

TO THE SCHOOL CHILDREN OF THE UNITED STATES

Two years ago, as president of the United States and as president of the American Red Cross, I addressed to you a letter in which I advised you to enroll in the newly organized Junior Red Cross, and I explained to you some of the ways in which the Junior Red Cross would help you to be useful to your country and to the children of those countries which were associated with us in a great war against a powerful enemy. Millions of you did join the Junior Red Cross and worked hard and what you did is warmly appreciated by the whole country.

Now, by the blessing of God and through the faithful performance of duty by our soldiers and sailors and the soldiers and sailors of the countries by whose side we fought, a great victory has been won and the war is over, but I am sure that you wish to continue to be useful to your country and to children less fortunate than yourselves. Therefore, I am writing to you at the opening of the new school year to advise you again to join the Junior Red Cross, which has planned a work for peace times even larger and more systematic than the work done during the war.

Would Abolish Unemployment in Oregon by State Furnishing Jobs for All Who Ask

Portland, Sept. 30.—Abolishment of unemployment in this state by the establishment of a special department which will be required to provide work for any unemployed person upon five days' notice is aimed at in a proposed constitutional amendment drafted by W. S. U'ren at the request of the Oregon State Federation of Labor, and which the federation expects to put before the people of Oregon at the election of November, 1920.

Under the plan of the proposed amendment, it would be the duty of the state to provide work for all demanding it and it is considered that it might be necessary for the state to go into many lines of industry in which it is not now engaged in order to find enough jobs to fill the requirements.

The state highway commission would be abolished and all highway work of all kinds would be done by the state, this field providing work for a large number.

MAYOR SMITH HAS CLOSE CALL

Troops Equipped With Plenty of Ammunition and Machine Guns; Governor Present

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 30.—Omaha was quiet last night.

With 800 troops from Forts Omaha and Crook, Nebraska, and Camp Dodge, Ia., on riot duty along with several hundred special officers organized by the American Legion to help preserve order, officials were confident there would be no further outbreak of the race rioting, which on Sunday and Monday resulted in the death of two persons, injuries to several scores of others, an attempt to lynch Mayor Ed. P. Smith and the partial wrecking by fire of the county courthouse.

In addition to these forces 11 officers and 250 men from Camp Funston, Kan., and 20 officers and 550 troops from Camp Grant, Ill., are scheduled to arrive here when General Leonard Wood, commander of the central department of the army, is expected to reach the city to take charge of military operations.

There are plenty of arms and ammunition to supply the troops, some of whom have machine guns. A heavy downpour of rain had the effect of keeping people off the streets.

Tomorrow judges of the district court here will decide whether a grand jury investigation of the race rioting shall be conducted. At the same time Governor Samuel R. McKelvie is to be in the city to give any advice he may deem necessary to the situation.
