AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Repatriating Prisoners.

When hostilities ceased there were in the hands of their Teuton captors millions of prisoners of war of all Allied countries, the terrible plight of whom is well known to all the world. Red Cross workers, carrying relief supplies of clothing, medicines and supplementary foodstuffs, penetrated the Central Powers as soon after the armistice as the military authorities would permit, and the work of getting the prisoners started back to their own countries was soon begun. In this photograph a group of these men are seen packed up and restored to something like normal health, awaiting the train that will carry them out of bondage.

WHEN A CHILD HAS CROUP

Thousands of mothers say Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is the best remedy for croup they know. It cuts the thick choking mucus, clears away the phlegm, opens air passages and eases hoarseness. The gasping, strangling fight for breath gives way to quiet breathing and peaceful sleep. T. J. McCall, Athens, O., writes: "We have used Foley's Honey and Tar in our home for years and find it invaluable for coughs and colds—especially for croup for our children. We are never without it and cannot too highly recommend it." Sold Everywhere.

SURELY HAD GREAT FAITH

Or Else It Was First Time This Man Had Ever Gone After Forgotten Umbrella.

Oh, ye of little faith, listen, for I would a tale unfold. A man came flying down the street the other day. He looked like Atlas with the world on his shoulders. He seemed bent on going somewhere and getting there quickly. A friend met him and said: "Why this haste? There must have been a still alarm, as I didn't hear any whistle. Where goest thou?" The Marathon pedestrian said: "Yes, I am in a little hurry. I was down street shopping a couple of days ago and went into a department store, and when I got home I found I had left my umbrella. I know just where I left it, on the south side of the store, standing up against the counter. I thought I would run down and get it before another shower came up." Just think of it. Why, if I had that man's faith I could not only turn a mole hill into a mountain and sell the gravel to the government to make concrete ships, but I could raise the mountain with a broom handle.

After parting with that old rain shudder he had blind faith that he would find his eyes on it again. Forty-eight hours of golden moments had flitted by, and he had the idea that all he had to do was to stand in front of the store and whistle, and that umbrella would come to meet him, bringing a flock of little umbrellas with it. He'd wonder the gold-brick factories are running overtime. Why that innocent must have at this writing enough dice, shilly billy on hand to top out a chimney.—Kennebec Journal.

The Lucky Horseshoe.

It was about the middle of the seventeenth century that the superstitious use of horseshoes as emblems of good luck originated in England. They were at first deemed a protection against witches and evil spirits, and were nailed on doors of houses, with the curve uppermost. It was the belief that no witch or evil spirit could enter a house thus guarded. The custom of nailing horseshoes to ships and other sailing craft is still in vogue in all English-speaking countries. To find a horseshoe with an odd number of nails attached to it is considered the forerunner of good luck, and the more nails the greater the good fortune that is likely to attend the finder. A person about to be married who finds a horseshoe believes that a happy matrimonial career awaits him.

Joy in Conquest.

Life's masterkey does for its possessor what is impossible to those who do not have it. No future is too forbidding for men of the right mental fiber to fear. Weaklings falter and turn back. Men of talent turned to right channels delight in meeting what has brought failure to the many. It offers to them a chance to try the really hard things. They alone test the skill and prove the mettle. Such men bring wealth out of defeat, and rejoice in the struggle. It's no wonder they step forward and try what has brought failure to others. It's the mental sense of conquest that crowns effort with success and makes man king in the world. It's your right.—Exchange.

Rapid Heat Changes in Leaves.

Some recent investigations of the temperature of leaves made in the deserts and mountains of Arizona and in the Santa Lucia mountains of California have resulted in the discovery that leaves show a very rapid change of temperature at times. These fluctuations are almost constantly going on. Changes of from one to three degrees Centigrade were observed in from 20 to 40 seconds, and if a moderately strong wind is blowing the change may amount to five degrees in 30 seconds.
