CANNOT FIND MOUTH OF HIDDEN RIVER

Geneva, Switzerland, Oct. 9.—Anxiety is felt by the inhabitants of several villages in the Engadine district because of the vagaries of an Alpine stream which has appeared in three different places during the past six weeks and as promptly vanished. The stream after cutting beds near villages disappeared overnight.

In one instance the torrent passed quite close to the tourist resort of Bergun, causing the resort to become deserted. Swiss engineers have traced the source of the stream to Lake Raveloch but failed in their experiments with colored water to follow it to its discharge.

Inhabitants recollecting the tragedy of 1892 at the health resort of Gervais when a similar stream collecting under a mountain caused terrible landslides destroying the village, killing and drowning several score of persons, have appealed to the cantonal government for assistance.

Columbus Day—

R. C. FINDS TERRIBLE SUFFERING IN RUSSIA

Warsaw, Oct. 9.—On their entry into the district of Vladimir, just freed from the enemy by the victorious advance of General Haller's troops, American Red Cross officers found a population of 200,000 children practically foodless and in clothing that was little better than rags.

Of the 50,000 children in Vladimir it was reported that 5,000 were complete orphans, having neither father nor mother. To care for such a large number there is but one orphan asylum capable of accommodating 100 children.

As a temporary measure the Red Cross has sent several cars of supplies to Vladimir. Another train was dispatched to the Haleby districts, where the conditions of the population are equally severe. Here were found 80 villages on the old German Russian battle line. Many of them had been totally destroyed. Refugees from Russia augmented the normal population, and to take care of them the Red Cross sent to Haleby 80 bales of clothing.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Home Service.

One of the finest constructive activities of the American Red Cross in the war was Home Service in the United States, the friendly connecting link between the soldier far from home and his loved ones. This branch of the work which under the peace program of the Red Cross will be expanded to benefit all who need the assistance it can provide, is directed by scientifically trained social workers. Since instituted Home Service has assisted 800,000 soldiers' and sailors' families. This photograph shows one of the innumerable Home Service information bureaus where service men and their families could bring their problems for solution.
