THE REAL BILL HART AT THE OREGON THEATER

The real Bill Hart—hero of every small boy from Maine to California and from Canada to the gulf—beloved of all who care for red-blooded action on the screen—will be seen in the new Arcraft picture "Square Deal Sanderson," which will be shown at the Oregon theatre tonight and tomorrow.

In several of his recent films, Mr. Hart has doffed chaps and six-shooters, appearing as a convict in one, and in another leaving the western plains for the asphalt of the city streets. But now he's back in harness, astride a trusty horse and with his wide brimmed Stetson atop his head. He riots through a picture that is full to the brim of action, excitement and heroic deeds. There are lively scraps, quick shooting, all the characteristic incidents of life as it was lived in the yesterday of the Southwest.

Those who care for action piled on action, true love and the code of honor of the far west; who revel in scenes which show the everlasting hills and the deserts that stretch into miles in every direction; for the strange and strenuous life of the cowtowns, the communities where men live and die hard and are either very honest or very evil—will find it all in "Square Deal Sanderson."
