

LEADS IN ROOSEVELT SUBSCRIPTION

The town of Roswell, Ga., the home of Martha Bulloch, mother of Theodore Roosevelt, now leads in the contest for subscriptions to establish a permanent Roosevelt memorial. Roswell has a population of 1,500 and $60 was the amount allotted by the committee as its share. The subscription now exceeds $8,000, or one-tenth of the quota for the entire state of Georgia. This photograph shows Bulloch hall, the home of Roosevelt's mother.

CATHEDRAL SUFFERS NO GREAT DAMAGE

Cardinal Lucon Says Reims Art Works Easily Can Be Restored.

After all, the Reims cathedral has not suffered from German bombardments and fire so much as was at first supposed, Cardinal Lucon has told a representative of the Paris Intransigent. The cardinal announced that divine service would be resumed in the cathedral from November 1, but the holy office will be restricted to the altar of the Virgin and the ambulatory around it. These will accommodate only about 1,500 persons.

The interviewer describes how he met the cardinal at Reims in a simply furnished apartment of the archiepiscopal palace, with a shell hole in the wall. Cardinal Lucon, despite his seventy-seven years, still is hale and alert and he is an optimist.

"Destroyed, my cathedral? Why, no," he said. "The damage is much more easily repairable than is generally believed. A few ancient parts, it is true, cannot be replaced, but the beauty of the cathedral lay, first in its stained glass, secondly in its sculptures and third in its statuary."

"Of the stained glass, nine-tenths has been saved and brought to Paris. The remaining tenth can be restored by specialists, with the aid of much patience and a great number of colored photographs we have. As regards the sculptures, we shall use the numerous moldings we have of them. Many have had to be restored anyway in the course of centuries, such as for instance, the large piece representing the Assumption. That was restored in 1875."

"As for the statuary, we have moldings that it will be easy to reproduce the damaged parts. The pillars, with their ornamented capitals, have suffered little, only the two side doorways have been badly damaged by fire."

"Was there not some talk of leaving the cathedral as it was?" the reporter asked.

"If the evidences of Teutonic barbarity had to be preserved, let them be kept in a private museum," replied the cardinal gravely.

Auto Service in Porto Rico.
Porto Rico is about 100 miles long by 40 miles wide, and autobus lines furnish satisfactory service in covering the parts of the country where railroads are not available. For the benefit of tourists and others a daily automobile service connects San Juan, on the north, with Ponce, on the south of the island, a run of five hours.

ORGAN WAS ONCE UNDER BAN

Scottish Presbytery, Less Than a Century Ago, Declared Its Playing Contrary to Law.

The organ, as an addition to the musical service in the Presbyterian church, was under a ban less than a hundred years ago, according to a writer in the Manchester Guardian, recalling the first organ made by James Watt. It was a small chamber organ, in form like a harmonium, which he built for his own use. When he moved to Birmingham the organ was left behind and came into the possession of the minister and session of St. Andrew's church, Glasgow, of which Watt had been a member. The instrument was used for weekly choir practices, but was shrouded under a green baize cover on Sundays, as though in disgrace. In 1806 permission to use it was refused by the city council. Then one Sunday afternoon, by pre-arrangement, the church attempted to use the organ without the council's consent. An organist from a neighboring Episcopal church was called in. He played the organ while the last psalm was sung. There was so much excitement over the affair that a bitter controversy followed. The presbytery declared it was contrary to law and the constitution of the established church, and it was prohibited in all churches and chapels within their bounds. Sixty years later St. Andrew's church got its first organ peacefully.

Had Gas Mask for Watch.

If the Germans had had a better sense of efficiency and had spent more time on the things that really counted, they might have fared better. For instance, many German officers wasted hours hanging on their dugout walls curtains and "God Bless Our Home" pictures, which were not at all appreciated when they were captured by the allies.

One careful German soldier had a gas mask made for his watch. This energy was wasted, for the watch is now in America.

The gas mask is simply an outside case—one face of it glass so that the time will show through it—which fastens tightly about the watch and allows nothing to go in or out.

Of course a watch does not need a respirator, nose-clip, mouthpiece or chemical box. — Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Paste for Brown Leather.

An excellent paste for brown leather is made of two ounces of soft soap, four ounces of beeswax, two ounces of turpentine and half an ounce of neat's foot oil. Melt soap, wax and oil together, then remove from fire and add the turpentine. Stir well. When cold apply with a brush.

No Horses on Largest Farm.
A 200,000-acre farm, the largest in the world, which is the direct result of the government's efforts to stimulate the growing of wheat, is described by Robert H. Moulton in Everybody's.

"The farm is devoted entirely to wheat, and if it produces somewhere around the country's average of twenty-eight bushels per acre, which is practically certain, it will add approximately 5,650,000 bushels to the 1919 wheat crop," says the writer.

"All of the work is being done with tractors. Last fall when the first ground was broken, there were fifty monster machines at work tearing up the prairie sod. They plow on an average of one acre a minute for the working time. A record was made one day of 1,880 acres turned and broken. All the seeding, harvesting, etc., will also be done by tractors, and then, of course, there are the thrashing machines. Hence, the absolute no-accountness of horses about this place."

Bird Rebuked.

Marguerite was accustomed to being told by her mother to keep still when any grown-up person present was speaking. One day her mother was telling something interesting when a canary in the room commenced singing at its loudest. Marguerite climbed upon a chair to the cage and shaking her finger at the bird said in a commanding tone, "You keep still! Don't you hear my mamma talking?"

Rubber Preservative.

A preparation that may be used for preserving rubber may be made by getting a saturated solution of turpentine in denatured alcohol. The point of saturation is known by a drop of undissolved turpentine remaining in the alcohol. A little more alcohol is added to dissolve this drop and the solution is saturated. Rubber articles should be occasionally painted or swabbed with this solution.
