French Souvenir Pamphlets—

About 100 French souvenir pamphlets were received at the local army recruiting station this morning to be given to ex-service men who served overseas. The same can be had by calling or writing Sergeant E. L. French, in charge of the station at 202½ Sixth street, Grants Pass, Ore.

Purchases the Klocker Place—

The Klocker place on East A street has been purchased by J. E. Olson, who has recently returned to Grants Pass from Coos county. The deal covers the six acre tract, with residence. The acreage contains three acres of Tokay grapes, and many other varieties of fruits. The sale price was $3,000. Mr. Olson had previously lived in Grants Pass for a year, farming leased land in the lower valley. He returns now more particularly because of the health of his nine-year-old daughter. He states that the girl is in perfect health when in Grants Pass, but that she becomes a constant sufferer from asthma whenever they leave here.

Rogue River Grange Dance—

On Jan. twenty-third there will be a dance at Rogue River Valley Grange hall. An invitation we extend to all. To attend at the hall. Out the street called West G.

Dancing begins promptly at nine. The music by Nelsons. You all know will be fine. Admission price will be small. So come one, come all. Come fill up the floor. And dance—as you've never danced before. For the good times are hard to beat. Whenever the grange people meet. 75

Oil Derrick for Sams Valley—

A. H. Gunnell and F. F. Childers a short time ago made a geological survey on the holdings of the Vulcan Oil & Gas company in Sams valley at a point where their derrick is being erected. The construction of the derrick was begun about three weeks ago in a section adjoining holdings in which a number of Grants Pass people are interested.

A Difference of Opinion—

Following a difference of opinion between C. A. Lynch and Dr. Billick, Mr. Lynch entered a plea of guilty to a disturbance of the peace of the city and paid $10 into the municipal fund. The doctor said he was not guilty, and will let the facts in the case go to the municipal justice at a hearing to be fixed later. The altercation was over a business transaction and occurred this afternoon.

Clark Tire Changers Soon Due—

Benj. M. Collins, who has recently returned from California where he went to arrange for the manufacture of the Clark tire changer, states he contracted with people in Oakland, California, for the making of the changers, and that the first installment of 500 is expected to arrive here by the middle of next month, when they will be placed on sale. The changer created much favorable comment wherever it has been shown, being in fact a "three-in-one" article, as it not only makes the changing of automobile tires an easy proposition, but it is also a tire carrier and a positive lock.
