VOTERS AS LAW MAKERS

The voters of the state of Oregon will have five whacks at the fundamental law of the commonwealth when they go to the polls to cast their ballots on the 21st day of May.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 17.—Amending section 18 of article 1 of the constitution of Oregon so as to declare that the use of all roads and ways requisite for the transportation of the raw products of mine, farm and forest is a public use and necessary to the development of the welfare of the state.

House Joint Resolution No. 11.—Amending section 7 of article XI of the constitution of the state of Oregon, relating to the lending of the credit of the state and limiting the power of contracting indebtedness.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 8.—Repealing section 36 of article 1 of the constitution of the state of Oregon, abolishing the death penalty, and adding to said article 1 a section to be designated as section 37, article 1, providing a penalty for murder in the first degree, and also adding to said article 1 a section to be designated as section 38, article 1, reviving the laws abrogated and repealed as in conflict with said section 36, article 1.

House Joint Resolution No. 7.—Amending section 10 of article XI of the constitution of the state of Oregon, relating to debts and liabilities of counties.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 10.—Amending section 8 of article V, of the constitution of the state of Oregon, relating to the office of governor.

House Bill No. 86.—An act to provide additional revenue for the Oregon Agricultural College, University of Oregon, and the Oregon State Normal School.

Senate Bill No. 40.—An act pro-aside from the bathhouse, have an estimated value of $100.

There are 3823 books in the municipal library that have cost the city $2714.33. Of the books, it was necessary to purchase only 2469 of them, 1363 having been gifts to the library. The average cost of the books purchased was 71 cents, but their present value is placed at 50 per cent of the first cost, or $1357.15.

ZION REPUBLIC NEAR

Lord Rothschild Says That Jews Are Nearing Goal.

Two years ago the British government issued a declaration of policy in favor of the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine, and a Zionist meeting has just been held to celebrate the anniversary. Baron Rothschild presided and read a letter from Lord Curzon, the foreign minister, giving assurance that there had been no change in the government's policy.

Lord Rothschild said that they were much nearer their goal than before, and he felt sure that they would yet see the establishment of their desired home, because it was the will of an overwhelming number of their Jewish brethren and was the desire of the rest of the world.

JAZZ CURES PARALYTIC

Pennsylvanian Attributes Miraculous Recovery to Phonograph Tune.

Paralyzed as a result of injuries received in an auto collision several weeks ago, Moses Haines of Connellyville, Pa., has suddenly recovered the ability to walk. He attributed his recovery to jazz music. He said he was lying in bed in great pain when the strains of "Carry Me Back to the Land of Jazz" being played on a phonograph, reached him.

"Play it again," he shouted to his wife. She did so and he hopped out of bed, put on his clothes and went out, according to his story.

123 MICHIGAN POLITICIANS

$100,000 of the contributed fund, it charged was converted to the personal use of some of the campaign managers.

James W. Helme, former state dairy and food commissioner, who opposed Henry Ford for the democratic nomination in the senatorial primary, another clause of the indictment alleged, was compensated by the Newberry organization for making the primary race. The alleged purpose was to prevent democratic voters from "lining up" with Ford in the republican primary.

Attached to the indictments was a list of more than two score "overt acts." These contained charges that a number of those indicted had given rewards ranging from promises of a "good job" to payments of sums ranging from $5 to $2,750 in return for support in the Newberry campaign. One country editor was alleged to have received a ton of print paper.

The grand jury investigation was conducted by Frank C. Dalley, of Indianapolis, former United States attorney for Indiana. It was ordered by the department of justice, October 18, and was based, it was announced on complaints filed with the department "and also published charges of fraud and corruption" made by Lieutenant Governor Dickinson of Michigan, and others.

Senator Newberry and 13 of the men who directed the campaign work in 1918, appeared before Judge Sessions December 8 and on the advice of counsel stood mute. This was done, it was explained, that the validity of the indictments might be challenged later, should it be decided to attack them. The right to raise technical questions, it was stated, would have been sacrificed by pleas of not guilty. Senator Newberry and each of the 13 men who appeared with him were held in bonds of $10,000 and $5,000 on the first and second indictments, respectively.

The maximum penalty for the offenses charged, is a fine of $10,000 and two years imprisonment.

MARY PICKFORD IN "THE HOODLUM" AT OREGON

Sweet, snappy, beautiful, mud-faced, loving, furious tempered, big hearted, considerate, thoughtless, lavishly gowned, slatternly attired,

Mary Pickford in "The Hoodlum" romantic, cynical, honorable, a safe cracker, dignified, a shimmy dancer, a craps shooter, wholesome alley denizen—that's "The Hoodlum," the second of Mary Pickford's productions produced in her own studios which will be shown at the Oregon three days, starting Thursday.

EXPERT'S PLAN

west and lying on the north side of the river in case the owners of such lands wish to join with the district. It was pointed out that the success of this plan is not dependent upon this land being included in the district because the exclusion of this tract of land will not materially reduce the per acre cost of the project, because of the large cost of from $80,000 to $90,000 required in constructing a canal to supply these lands and the additional proportionate cost of the dam and main canal.

This plan contemplates the irrigation of some 10,000 acres, and provision can be made for the irrigation of high lands by the means of private pumping plants taking water from the district canals.

Mr. Wiley further outlined the proposed gravity plan, and in his remarks stated that nowadays most irrigation districts are more or less handicapped on account of the necessity of having to construct storage reservoirs in order to obtain a sufficient water supply, but that because of the large flow in the Rogue river now available for irrigation this district was especially favored, and the construction of the irrigation work to supply this project is therefore cheaper than any other that he knew of.

The report was most pleasing to those present at the meeting, and it was the opinion that the board should proceed along the plan outlined by Mr. Wiley as quickly as possible.

Mr. Schneelock gave the board assurances that he would finance the district for the completion of the construction work in accordance with the plans above outlined in addition to the $100,000 bond issue which he has already purchased.

The board of directors is now proceeding to advertise the remainder of the authorized bond issue in the sum of $184,000 for account of the permanent gravity construction.

It is expected that the plans for the construction of the permanent dam will be completed this spring so that the construction of the dam can be completed before the coming of flood waters next year and the gravity system should be completed and in operation for the season of 1921.

The present plans which will be proceeded with contemplate the construction of that part of the canal system which covers lands now cleared or which will be cropped this season, and the installation of temporary pumping plants necessary to supply such ditches at as early a date as such equipment can be obtained.

The board adopted a resolution to proceed along the above outlined plan. The board also asked that Messrs. Schneelock and Wiley stop at Salem and consult with State Engineer Copper concerning the plan.
