INCOME TAX FACTS YOU SHOULD KNOW

In making out his income tax form for 1919, the taxpayer must report the following items under gross income:

Salaries, wages and commissions for personal services, including bonuses.

Interest received on notes and deposits in banks, including savings banks.

Dividends on stock. Only dividends paid out of earnings or profits accrued since March 1, 1913, are taxable, but dividends are deemed to be distributed out of the most recently accumulated earnings.

Profits received from the sale of property, real, or personal. If the property was purchased prior to March 1, 1913, the profit is based on the difference between the selling price and the fair market price or value as of March 1, 1913.

Profits from stock market transactions.

Income received from fiduciaries, that is amounts received from incomes of estates, trusts, etc., through trustees, administrators, or executors.

Partnership profits; partnerships as such, are not subject to the income tax, but each individual partner must pay a tax on the income from such partnership.

Royalties from mines, oil and gas wells, patents, copyrights and franchises.

The following items are not taxable and need not be included in the return:

Property received as a gift by will or by inheritance. The income from such property, however, is taxable.

Proceeds of life insurance policies.

Returns of premiums on life insurance, endowment, or annuity contracts.

Amounts received through accident or health insurance or under workmen's compensation acts, plus the amount of damages received, whether by suit or agreement.

Interest on obligations of any state, or any city, town, county, or village and the District of Columbia. Interest on obligations of the United States is exempt from tax, except that interest on obligations issued after September 1, 1917, is exempt only to the extent provided in the liberty loan acts.

Interest on the securities issued under the provisions of the Federal farm loan act of July 17, 1916.

Amounts received during the war by persons in the active military or naval forces up to $3,500, in addition to personal exemption.

Interest on liberty bonds to the par value of $5,000 is exempt from all taxation. Holders of large amounts of liberty bonds are advised to consult their bankers or collectors of internal revenue as to their exemptions.

The law expressly prohibits the deduction of personal living expenses. These include rent, wages of servants, cost of food and clothing for family, upkeep of automobiles used for pleasure or convenience, education of children, and similar items. Income spent during the year 1919 for any of these items is subject to the tax.

FERRYDALE

J. L. Green, of Grants Pass, was visiting Grandma Robertson Friday. Gene and Ray Neely are cutting hop poles for Mrs. Stevenson.

Mrs. Chas. Dora was out to Grants Pass a few days this week on business.

Dick Every left for Draper Thursday morning.

T. A. Glover, son of C. B. Glover, is here from Portland visiting his father.

Word has been received by friends that Mrs. Zimmermah, who formerly lived here, is dead. She and her husband left here last fall for southern points.

Myrtle Ford returned to Grants Pass Tuesday after having been at home a week on account of being ill. Stanley Ogden and Wm. Anderson were at Merlin Wednesday on business.

A. J. Hussey was delivering hogs at Grants Pass Friday and Saturday, to be shipped to the Portland market.

Gladys Griffin is spending a few days visiting friends at Grants Pass. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chappell Wednesday, a daughter.

WILDERVILLE

It has been reported that Alva Woodard has sold his ranch to parties from Idaho. The Woodards will remove to New Hope to reside.

Last Saturday night seemed to be unlucky for autoists. Ben Borrough and son skidded into a bank near the Slate creek bridge while attempting to give room to a passing car on a sharp turn, and near the Ruttenutter home, J. L. Daws came in contact with an oak stump trying to get home without lights. No one was injured and the cars escaped with only minor damages.

Several cases of mumps are in the neighborhood. Olive Robinson and Mrs. J. H. Robinson are among the victims.

L. M. Anderson and wife, Will Dickinson and family, Roy Daws and family were Sunday guests at the Bousman home.

MEXICAN BOLSHEVIKI WATCHED BY THE U.S.

Mexico City, Jan. 30.—The United States government, in its fight against bolshevism, is exercising a strict censorship on mail from the Mexican states of Tamaulipas, Yucatan, Vera Cruz, Sinaloa and Sonora, say newspapers of this city which assert the information comes from government sources. It is said here that the above named states are regarded as bolshevik centers.

FIFTY-SEVEN NEW CASES OF FLU IN PORTLAND

Portland, Jan. 30.—Fifty-seven new cases of influenza have been reported, bringing the total cases to date in Portland to 170. However, no deaths and no critical cases have been reported, the epidemic being of mild form.

ITALIAN CABINET AND STRIKE LEADERS AGREE

London, Jan. 29.—A Rome dispatch says an agreement on all the principal points at issue has been reported between the Italian cabinet and leaders of the striking railway men and it is expected the strikers will return to work immediately.

MONTANA BUCKS FIGHT AND DIE WITH LOCKED HORNS

Columbia Falls, Mont., Jan. 30.—C. A. Robinson, deputy game warden, has brought in from the hills a photograph of two buck deer who fought, with horns interlocked, until death came.

Mr. Robinson found the pair in an obscure glade. The earth all about for some distance was torn up, and the battle evidently had lasted a long time. The bucks were large and powerful and their antlers were so interlocked that they could not be separated.

Precious Amber.

Men dig for amber, fascinating fossilized resin of prehistoric pine-trees—that resin which has taken millions of years to convert into its present state—with all the eagerness and greed of those who search for diamonds. The world's supply of amber is obtained from mines on the coast of Samland, in the eastern Prussian peninsula, between the towns of Burnstrort and Palmucken. These are the only amber mines known. Here countless ages ago, there were pine forests which the sea turned into stone and the natural resin of the trees into precious "electron" of the ancients or the costly amber of the moderns.

Britain's Great Good Fortune.

England nearly lost the tremendous start which the invention of the locomotive gave her in the world's trade. George Stephenson at one time struck a bad patch. His wife died and left him an infant son, the man who later on built the Northwestern and half the trunk lines of Britain. His old father met with an accident which deprived him of his sight, while George himself was drawn for the militia, and had to find a substitute, or pay a big sum, for him. In his despair he would have emigrated to America, if he could have raised his passage money. But he remained in the old country, where great triumphs and much prosperity awaited him.

Bird Deadly Enemy of Flies.

The Wilson warbler is the champion fly-catcher of the United States. His method of getting most of his food is to dash out from the limb of a tree and snatch passing insects on the wing. He catches other insects which are flitting about or sitting on the foliage or blossoms of the trees. You will often find these little birds in apple trees when in bloom. Their olive green and yellow plumage harmonizes with the green leaves of the trees. The male bird has a black crown patch on the top of its head, while on the female this cap is greenish like the back. This bird is found throughout the eastern United States, but winters in Central America.

Why Let Night's Curtain Close Your Show at 6 O'clock

Your display window is a stage, Mr. Merchant. Before it, from early morn until late at night passes an audience of thousands. Don't let night's curtain shroud your show window in darkness when the factory whistles blow. Don't even permit the lowering dusk to dim the attractiveness and brilliance of your display. Install modern concealed Electric Window Lights and keep your audience interested as long as it lingers on the streets. Show your merchandise in day-like light all evening long. Be as alive to the sales possibilities of your show window as your competitor next door.

Telephone your electrical contractor now. Estimates cheerfully furnished free.
