

Shoulder and sleeve all in one piece

IN the shoulders—right where the worst strain comes in a work coat—is where Blue Buckle coats have sure protection. They are the only coats on the market with free-swing raglan sleeves.

That means the shoulder and sleeve are the same piece in Blue Buckle coats—no seams on the shoulders to rip and give—no binding under the arm pits.

You can always be sure of long wear and comfort when you get Blue Buckle coats and overalls.

The toughest, longest-wearing denim—and lots of it—with big, broad, double-stitched seams goes into every pair of Blue Buckles. They don't rip. The brass buttons and buckles don't come off. Every pair is roomy and comfortable, with a solid back-band, reinforced, convenient pockets, extra wide suspenders—and first-class workmanship.

That's why more Blue Buckles are sold than any other brand of overalls.

Ask for Blue Buckles when you buy overalls.

"I've tried a lot of overalls, but of all I've worn, give me Blue Buckles every time. They always give long wear."

OBITUARY

Esther Amelia Pierson

Esther Amelia Pierson was born October 8, 1854, in Vancouver, Wash., where she was raised. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Morse, early pioneers in '45 and '49. There were five children, four of whom are living. They are: C. H. Morse, of Idaho; Mrs. Mattie Wheeler, of Selma, Ore.; George R. Morse, of Yakima, Wash.; and C. L. Morse, of Selma, Oregon. She is also survived by her husband, formerly of Yakima, Wash.

There are four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Ida V. Stormfield, of San Francisco, Cal.; W. H. Morse, Mrs. C. A. Kelly, Mrs. E. Forbes, Mrs. Elsie Mooney, of Portland, and one aunt, Miss Emma Short, of Selma, Ore., and seven grand children to mourn her loss. She was a devoted wife and mother, beloved by all who knew her and was always ready to lend a helping hand to one in need. She was an earnest worker and member of the Congregational church. She died at 11 o'clock on the evening of April 6, at Selma, Ore. The funeral was held at Selma April 9, conducted by Rev. C. M. Cline. The family desire to extend their thanks to the neighbors and friends for their sympathy and help in their time of sorrow.

Give Consecrated Dollars

At Home or Abroad
—the church stands
back of civilization

THE Presbyterian
Church has always been forward in evangelism and social service. It seeks to turn men to God and to uplift life in every community it touches.

Teaching and preaching amid the snows of the Arctic and the jungles of Africa—

Tending the sick on five continents—a colossal Samaritan ministering to suffering humanity in superstition-ridden regions, where the only hospitals are church-maintained—

Teaching India's millions to impound their waters against coming drought, showing Brazil how to plow its land, and combating Bolshevism in the mines, lumber camps, and congested areas of cities—

This is how the Presbyterian Church is helping to make a better world.

Every Presbyterian adherent is a partner in this magnificent enterprise. What can the church count upon from you in the financial canvass April 23 to May 2?
