PRESERVE SHAPE OF STORED AUTO TIRES

Illustration Shows Satisfactory Type of Hanger.

Device is Made of Few Boards and Mounted on Brackets Constructed of Strips of Wood—How It is Put Together.

There are very few public or private garages that have not at least one tire not in use. The usual method of storing those spares is to hang them on large nails or hooks. This may do for a day or two, but if left for any length of time the tire will assume an irregular shape and a weak spot will develop where the nail has been when the tire is put into use.

The illustration shows a type of hanger that may be made wide enough to accommodate a pair of tires, or even more, and will keep them in their original shape. It is made of a few boards and mounted on brackets constructed of 3-in. strips of wood. The sides are curved to fit the inside of the tire and short pieces of board are nailed across their upper edges. The tire is thus supported on about a third of its circumference and so held in shape.—Charles R. Fisher, in Popular Science Monthly.

CLEANING AUTO REFLECTORS

First Wash Off All Particles of Dirt With Hot Water, Then Wipe Surface With Alcohol.

(By FRED G. PERSON, State Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo.)

In cleaning the reflectors, first wash off all particles of dust and dirt with a stream or spray of hot water. The hot water is most conveniently applied with a syringe. Do not apply it with a cloth. Then take a piece of absorbent cotton saturated with alcohol and wipe off the surface of the reflector. This procedure will remove all dirt and grease and leave the surface dry and clean. Do not attempt to clean the reflector with a handkerchief or with polishing powders of any kind.

"Gosh! How my back aches!" After Grip, "flu" or colds, the kidneys and bladder are often affected—called nephritis, or inflammation of kidneys.

This is the red flag of danger—better be wise and check the further inroads of kidney disease by obtaining that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, known as Anuric (anti-uric-acid), because it expels the uric acid poison from the body and removes those pains, such as backache, rheumatism in muscles and joints.

Naturally when the kidneys are deranged the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes in bag-like formations.

Dr. Pierce's Anuric is many times more potent than lithia, and often eliminates uric acid as hot tea melts sugar.

MADERA, CAL.—"I recommend Dr. Pierce's Anuric very highly. I have suffered for the last three years with catarrh of the bladder, having tried every remedy I heard of but without relief. I saw Anuric advertised in the paper, and like a drowning man grabbing at a straw I thought I would try it also, which I did with great success, as it relieved me almost immediately, before I had taken all of the trial package, and having great confidence in the remedy I immediately sent to the drug store and bought a package. I can say to all suffering from any disease of the kidneys or uric acid troubles, try this remedy and suffer no longer. I have great faith in Doctor Pierce's remedies.—S. P. HENSLEY.

TELLS HOW HE CURED COLD

New York Physician Passes on Remedy Which He Declares Does Away With Affliction.

This is how Dr. L. Duncan Bulkley of New York cures his own colds and those of other people. Doctor Bulkley tells the story in the Medical Record, as follows:

"Yesterday I had about as severe a cold as possible, which had been coming on several days, and had been simply neglected, and I sneezed and coughed all day, using any number of handkerchiefs. In the afternoon I took one or two doses of soda, half a teaspoonful, and in the evening took five more, at half-hour intervals, in warm water. At midnight I took one of the grip powders I have so long prescribed, ten grains of phenacetin with 20 of soda, with hot water, and went to bed with two handkerchiefs under my pillow. I dropped to sleep very soon and slept soundly until called at 7:30, when I took another of the phenacetin and soda powders and found the cold entirely gone; exactly the experience which I reported before and which I have had many times.

"Last year from October to late spring I wrote for the phenacetin and soda powders, ten grains and 20, almost every day, and sometimes at least four times in the day, for patients threatened with gripe, and although I questioned many patients at subsequent office visits I have yet to learn of any failure to arrest the trouble."

TO WORK OLD COPPER MINES

American Company, With Modern Machinery, Will Reopen Shaft on the Isle of Cyprus.

Equipped with modern mining machinery purchased in the United States with California money, the rich copper mines of the Isle of Cyprus, which centuries ago furnished copper for the civilized world, may in a few months be turning out thousands of tons of that metal.

According to an announcement made yesterday, a syndicate of California capitalists has secured a long-term purchase lease on a score or more of the most valuable workings on the island, and engineers are now on the ground outlining plans for installing modern mining machinery to replace the crude plants maintained by the Phoenicians centuries ago. While the names of members of the syndicate were not given out, D. C. Jacklin, multi-millionaire copper magnate of San Francisco, is the recognized head of the corporation.

When the war first broke out the syndicate had about completed plans for perfecting their lease of 22 claims on the island, but complications brought about by the conflict forced abandonment of the plan until after the signing of the armistice.
