Tales of Ancient History.
Tatian in his "Book Against the Greeks" relates that among the Phoenicians flourished three ancient historians, Theodotus, Hysicrates and Mochus, who all of them delivered in their histories an account of the league and friendship between Solomon and Hiram when Hiram gave his daughter to Solomon and furnished him with timber for the building of the temple. The same is affirmed by Menander of Pergamus. This Hiram, of course, was the king of Tyre.—Christian Science Monitor.

White House a Busy Spot.

Even the White House used to be a place where a president could get a bit of relief, and when things were too hot there, Lincoln found refuge at the Soldier's home across the Potomac, whither he rode with a small guard. It was the opportunity thus presented that led to the kidnaping plot which Booth turned into a plot for wholesale assassination. Now the White House is a huge palace with a business office near at hand and the lovely grounds are open much of the time to all comers, and within sight of passing thousands, so there is little chance to rest.

NEW TEAM STARS IN "23 1/2 HOURS' LEAVE"

Doris May and Douglas McLean will make their first local appearance as Ince co-stars in "23 1/2 Hours' Leave" at the Oregon theater today, tomorrow matinee and night.

It is a happy co-starring team which these two players provide. They have youth, good looks and plenty of personality and it is practically a foregone conclusion that future pictures of theirs will be eagerly sought after when the merits of "23 1/2 Hours' Leave" are considered, which is none other than Mary Roberts Rinehart's famous Saturday Evening Post story, made into a picture that sizzles with action and roars with fun.

Somehow or other that word "succulent" makes a fellow sort of roll his tongue and look at the clock and wonder if eating time is approaching. It makes him think of this butcher shop and roasting pans and married life and things like that.

HOWDY, FOLKS

Maybe, it's been so long ago since you met me and pap and the rest of our family, that you've forgotten me. But I thought you'd be glad to know that I'm coming to Grants Pass next Sunday. Yep! Ain't you glad? Me an' Tom Sawyer and pap (he's no account) and the "duke" and the "king" will be with me—the whole bunch of us just like you read about us in Mark Twain's book about me—"Huckleberry Finn." Only now we've come to life in a big moving picture. You'll see us living the greatest story ever written by dear old Mark Twain.

Come to see me at the Oregon theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, (May 23, 24, 25). Try to get there Sunday afternoon, 'cause I think there's goin' to be big crowds and there won't be enough seats for all who want to see my picture.

See you Sunday at 2 p. m. o'clock at the Oregon! Bring your children—they know me, too.

Yours for a good time,
HUCKLEBERRY FINN.
