Tonight and Saturday, probably showers west. Fair east portion.

"HE KEPT US IN THE WAR"

The United States of America is still technically at war with Germany and Austria. The Wilson brand of peace was not the kind that would meet the spirit of the American people who love democracy too much to sanction the Wilsonian autocracy.

But Wilson now again interjects his supreme will into the situation, and peace becomes distant. The American people want peace, but they want it in an American and an honorable way. The president reaffirms his theory that the executive is greater than congress, and that congress must think "in a groove with his own thought" or not think at all.

MORE OF THE OREGON SYSTEM

The last Withycombe man on the state payroll in any of the more important positions has fallen before the Olcott ax, H. J. Schulderman, corporation commissioner, having been ousted by the acting governor to make room for some one more in personal sympathy with foibles and fancies of the executive. It is another score for the Oregon system which permits such travesties on affairs of government as a man elected secretary of state profiting by the death of the governor to the extent that he is being allowed to hold office for two years longer than the people elected him to any office, and that office one in which the voters said at the polls they did not want that particular individual. It is time Oregon purged its "system" of some things.

A northern vicar, having advertised for an organist, received the following reply:

"Dear Sir—I noticed you have a vacancy for an organist and music teacher, either lady or gentleman. Having been both for several years I beg to offer you my services."—Pearson's Weekly.

Taylor's Singing Band Is Coming

Chautauqua Presents Splendid Company on Fourth Day

Taylor's Singing Band brings to Chautauqua two of the big musical programs of the week on the fourth day. For several years they have been heavily featured in the East and are recognized as one of the genuine musical successes of the platform. This splendid organization is a singing band with a program of unusual variety. They have ensemble seldom found in organizations of twice their size. They all possess fine voices and are masters on their many band instruments. The best in the musical library is to be found in their programs, balanced with lighter music and popular airs. Their two programs are of such excellence and variety that whatever your musical taste may be you will be genuinely surprised and pleased. Tom Corwine, inimitable entertainer, will add to the joy of the day by appearing both afternoon and evening.
