JAP WOMEN WITHOUT RIGHTS

Many Restrictions to Be Removed Before There Can Be Thought of Suffrage.

Perhaps it is a little premature for Japanese women to think of suffrage when they are actually prevented from even passively listening to political speeches. It is curious to note in this connection that not a single voice has yet been raised against the legal disability of married women and also against the injustice—or at least the unfairness—to daughters of the Japanese law of succession.

According to Japanese law married women form a class of incapacitated persons, the other classes under the same category being (1) minors, (2) incompetent persons (lunatics), and (3) quasi-incompetent persons (persons of weak intellect, deaf, dumb or blind persons and spendthrifts).

Married women must obtain the permission of their husbands in order (a) to receive or invest capital; (b) to contract loans or to become surety; (c) to do acts having for their object the acquisition or loss of rights in immovable or important movable property; (d) to make gifts, compromises or arbitration agreements; (e) to accept or waive successions; (f) to accept or refuse gifts or legacies, or (g) to make contracts putting themselves under any personal restraint; and any such acts done without the requisite permission may be canceled by the authors themselves or their husbands.—Japan Chronicle.

NOT ALL DUE TO COMEDIAN

Part of Laughable Entertainment Was Being Furnished by Original Tenants of Barn.

Spencer Sweet said the other day in the New York state legislature at Albany:

"Because an agitator gets a lot of newspaper space it does not necessarily mean that he is a great man. Newspaper space may mean something else. It reminds me of a story.

"A rich man hired a comedian to entertain the workers on his estate one evening. The entertainment was staged in the barn, and it went well, almost too well. The comedian, in fact, had hardly got under way when the barn began to shake with shouts of laughter. Soon the laughter became so uproarious that the rich man rose and said:

"Friends, I know how difficult it is to restrain our mirth when Mr. Backchat is on the stage, but really, you know, if we don't hold ourselves in just a little the performance will hardly be over by midnight."

"Then a burly plowman rose in his turn.

"Excuse me, boss," he said; "it ain't Mr. Backchat we're laughin' at, but somebody left the door open and all the pigs have got in, and they're nearly pushin' us off our seats."

Blue Jay Ways.

Last spring a pair of blue jays nested in the crotch of a maple just below my study window. What a time they had of nest building! The female insisted on building in a crotch below, while the male thought a crotch higher up, afforded a more advantageous location. They talked and scolded building first in one place then in the other. In the end the female had her way, and the makeshift bunch of twigs and brush was collected. The birds were silent for weeks, tending solely to family cares; the half of which the male bird assumed without a murmur of complaint. All summer long they were silent, but toward fall they joined their voices with those of the other jays in the neighborhood. It was a new sound on blue jay methods, and I was glad to record the birds with a song hit once appreciation.—Christian Science Monitor

You Can Get Goodyear Tires for That Sturdy Smaller Car
