LUBRICATION IS OF IMPORTANCE

Life of Engine and Car Depends on Proper Oiling of Many Different Parts.

PREVENT METALS TOUCHING

To Avoid Trouble With Bearings or Cylinders Put in an Extra Pint of Oil Every Hundred Miles—Don't Wait for Squeak.

"The life of your engine and car depends upon lubrication," is the subject of an article appearing in a recent issue of an automobile magazine.

The principle of lubrication is to prevent any two pieces of metal that are working one against the other from touching. This is accomplished by laying a film of oil between these two metals. Upon this film of oil depends the life of bearings, cylinders and piston rings. Only three different grades of lubricants are used. The owner should provide himself with a supply of gas cylinder oil, grease and steam engine oil.

Right Oil for Engine.

Never use steam engine oil or anything but a pure mineral oil in the engine. Fast running or riding over heavy and hilly roads uses up oil much faster than city driving. Put in an extra pint of oil every hundred miles or so. This precaution will avoid trouble with bearings or cylinders.

Once a month or every thousand miles, the oil in the crank case should be drained off and a fresh supply poured in. The oil may be drained by removing the drain plug at the bottom of oil pan. After draining, flush the crank case with kerosene through the breather pipe, replace drain plug and refill with clean oil. Be absolutely sure that all the kerosene is drained off, otherwise it will mix with the fresh oil and will cut down its lubricating qualities.

Trouble Follows Squeak.

Don't wait until you hear a "squeak" before oiling. A "squeak" means a rusted or dry bearing, and when once in that condition trouble soon follows.

The compact construction of some cars makes necessary the placing of oil holes and grease cups under the floor boards of the car. Don't, because it might cause you a little extra trouble, forget to remove them and lubricate as directed.

PREVENT RATTLES IN DOORS

Apply Small Piece of Rubber to Fill Out Vibrating Space—Anti-Rattles Are Very Good.

When something seems to rattle around the body of your machine and you don't know just what it is, get someone to hold the doors tight while you drive, says American Motorist. If that stops the rattle, get some anti-rattles for the doors and apply them; or fasten a small piece of rubber on your door to fill out the vibrating space.

ATTACH CABLE TO BATTERY

In Case of Emergency Insulation May Be Stripped Back for Two or Three Inches.

In cases of emergency, it is possible to attach a cable to the battery by stripping back the insulation for two or three inches, prying apart the strands and then placing a washer on each side of the cable, after which the nut is screwed down, holding the cable firmly in place.

Sell Historic Bagner in London.

At a sale of antiques recently in London, colors carried at the battle of Culloden in 1746 were sold to a Glasgow purchaser for £750 ($3,750). The colors were borne by Sir James Kinloch's battalion—the Second—of Lord Ogilvy's regiment, and is believed to be the only banner carried off by the young pretender's defeated army. All the colors taken in the battle were burned at Edinburgh.—London Times.

Large, Solid Head.

Mother sent me to get a head of lettuce, and told me the good ones would be sold and hard. I carefully picked out a large solid head, and asked the grocer how much that head of lettuce cost. He answered: "Excuse me, but that is a cabbage."—Exchange.

PORTUGAL NOT BOTHERED WITH SOCIAL UNREST

People Enjoy Life in Simple Way Despite the Labor Troubles.

Portugal, in spite of all the lurid reports spread abroad by interested parties, is at the present moment of social and economical troubles no worse off than other countries which participated in the great war.

When one drives through Lisbon and her suburbs on a Sunday and watches the happy crowds holiday making after the week's work, the impression gained is that it would be difficult to find in any country such a contented and light-hearted people as the Portuguese.

Unless some means of conveyance be previously engaged, walking is the only method of locomotion available on that day, for trains, motorcars, carriages, carts and omnibuses are all hired or seats booked in advance. Even the street cars are filled to overflowing by workmen and their families going to the outlying districts, smilingly bearing with them their picnic baskets.

The leafy avenues just outside the city are filled with people afoot, singing popular songs from the latest revues or exchanging merry jests with the people in the conveyances.

Outside and inside the railroad stations from early morning are filled with people of the more wealthy, working and professional classes trying to obtain accommodations for a trip either to Cintra, Cascaes or the Estoril, the beautiful Riviera of Portugal.

It is true that besides all this merry-making there is a social unrest in Portugal. Strikes are frequent, but generally peaceable; there is an occasional bomb and sometimes a street riot, but bolshevik revolution there is none. When three bombs were thrown recently into the ranks of a popular demonstration of gratitude to the government for taking measures to lower the prices of foodstuffs, most of the demonstrators carried on as though nothing had happened. The bomb throwers were arrested. That was all. Amusements went on as usual, with little excitement.

WIDOW TAKES PLACE OF COBBLER HUSBAND

When Jimmy O'Brien, a Cincinnati cobbler, died recently, his widow took over the business and is now conducting a very flourishing trade among the folks of her neighborhood. Mrs. O'Brien often helped her husband in the shop and she is now a very efficient cobbler.

EUGENIE NOW READS

Former Empress Submits to Operation for Cataract.

Former Empress Eugenie of France is able to see much better than for years past, thanks to an operation for cataract performed since her arrival in Madrid, where she is the guest of her nephew, the duke of Alba. Despite her ninety-four years, the former empress consented to undergo the operation performed by Dr. Jacinto Barraquer, a Barcelona oculist, who invented an instrument for cataract removal.

The frailty of Eugenie permitted the use of only a local anesthetic. The surgeon made a slight incision in the cataract, applied cocaine, and then the delicate instrument, which acts on the suction principle, was used. After six days the obstruction was drawn aside without pain.

When the bandages were removed Eugenie was able to read for the first time in many years. The cataract cannot be removed entirely without cutting, therefore the ultimate success of the operation cannot be forecast.

Kills 51 Coyotes in Month.

Sam Marple, trapper, of Yuba county, California, during the month of May caught and killed 51 coyotes, for which there is a bounty of $5 offered by the county, according to his claim filed with the Yuba board of supervisors. There is seldom a month that Marple does not kill from twenty to forty coyotes.

Charm-

That indefinable something called charm, for lack of a better definition—what is it? Health, personality, appearance—all these go far toward its making, but Charm is greater than any one!
