LOOKING TO SOUTH PACIFIC

White Men Planning Complete Possession of F&E Islands of That Far-Away Ocean.

With Europe a seething mass of unrest and discontent and uncertainty, your Britisher is looking to the islands of the South Pacific, already owned by the empire, as the next place to go to and to exploit, to use the expression of a lot of people who do not know the meaning of the word. Already corporations are being formed to colonize the islands, and beautiful word pictures of the advantages of a residence upon them are being painted.

The truth is, for some years the white man has been gradually getting a foothold in the region. The delightful pictures which one sees of the natives, gives a little idea of what is really to be seen in the country. They are not the wild, naked people roaming at large, eating each other and the missionaries. Rubber plantations, coconut groves, phosphate mines and other industries are operated by Europeans. And schools and churches are encountered on every hand, with the honk of the horn of the automobile heard in the shade of the palms.

The white man will not reach the end of his road until there is no more country to be settled up, and there are still vast areas to be brought under his domain. In Africa, and upon the islands of the sea, he is settling his foot and clearing up the jungles and conquering the pests and becoming acclimated. But the end is not yet; there is still much to be done, and the chances are that the next few years will see an exodus to these far-away places where a beginning has already been made.—Columbus Dispatch.

MADE HIT WITH RECITATION

Prince's Speech Consisted of Verses From the Koran, but Audience Didn't Know It.

It is interesting to recall that during the recent European tour of Prince Feisal of the new kingdom of Syria, his memory of the Koranic verses stood him in good stead. In London, at a dinner in the Guildhall, the prince, who was the guest of honor, and who knew little French and less English, was called upon to reply to the toast of his health. Beside him sat his friend and mentor, Colonel Lawrence, Oxford professor and oriental scholar, to whom he whispered as he rose to acknowledge the lord mayor's speech. Colonel Lawrence nodded his assent, and the prince addressed his audience in flowing Arabic periods, winning appreciation and applause.

When the guest of honor had resumed his seat, Colonel Lawrence, as his interpreter, rose to express in English the prince's sentiments of gratitude for his reception, and to voice his devotion to the principles of democracy and allied solidarity. It was not until many days had gone by that Colonel Lawrence allowed it to be known among his friends that what the prince had whispered to him was: "I'll recite the verses from the Koran about the cow."

Thus did the diplomatic professor deceive the unwitting ears of his Guildhall friends.—Munsey's Magazine.
