OREGON WEATHER

Weather for the Week

Pacific Coast States: Generally fair and cool; frost likely except in central and southern California.
Tonight and Tuesday fair. Continued cold.

Yesterday the highway was thronged with pleasure seekers. Most of them kept within the speed limit. A few, not respecting the rights of the others, opened their cars to the limit, even at the danger of running others off the road. Two cars staged a race, causing a third car to go into the ditch. A second car went into the ditch because of reckless driving of another person. Something should be done to protect the person who keeps within the law.

An "independent" Portland paper asserts that Senator Harding is no "glutton for work." Perhaps not, we do not know the senator, but it stands to reason that if a man can raise himself to the position occupied by Senator Harding, without work, he must be nothing less than a genius. It is encouraging, anyway, for if he is afraid of work, he won't try to shoulder the responsibilities of an entire world.

The president is now preparing his annual address to congress. It will not contain much about the "solemn referendum."

GRANT MEMORIAL IS NEARING COMPLETION

Washington, Nov. 8.—Eighteen years in the making, a memorial to General U. S. Grant is nearing completion here and probably will be unveiled before the end of the year. It is in the form of a magnificent equestrian statue of bronze, the second largest of its kind in the world, mounted on a granite pedestal and flanked on the left by a casting of a group of cavalry and on the right by a group of artillery, both groups done in bronze. Two huge lions in stone at the foot of the pedestal complete the memorial.

The equestrian figure stands 16 feet high, weighs 10,700 pounds and cost $250,000. The memorial is located in the Botanic Gardens at the foot of the capitol and congress has approved the removal of a section of the iron fence on the east front of the gardens to admit the statue and to provide space for spectators at the unveiling ceremonies.

Authority for the creation of the memorial was given by congress on February 23, 1901. The completion for the statue was held in 1902 and the award was to Henry M. Shady, a noted sculptor, of Elmford, N. Y., whose design was selected by a jury consisting of Augustus Saint-Gaudens, Daniel Chester French, Daniel H. Burnham and Charles F. McKim. The pedestal was designed by Edward P. Casey, of New York, associated with Mr. Shady, and was completed and put in place in 1906.

The equestrian statue has just now been finished, however, and was shipped here in sections by motor truck from New York City. The memorial to the famous general and 18th president of the United States will bear no inscription, according to members of the Fine Arts commission, who recently approved the statue in its completed form. A member of the Grant Memorial commission had composed a lengthy inscription, but after careful consideration officials of the commission and of the office of public buildings and grounds deemed an inscription unnecessary.

The humorist whose pen-name was "Josh Billings," was Henry Wheeler Shaw. He lived from 1815 to 1885. He turned off many shrewd sayings, bits of quaint philosophy and pointed jokes, but they were rather damaged by the laboriously bad spelling in which they were written. This style of humorous writing, quite popular in the United States half a century ago, has about gone out of vogue. Today Josh Billings is little more than a name.

Simple Beauty Rule.
Women should take five minutes a day from work and lie flat on the back, all muscles relaxed, with eyes closed. It will be found a wonderful preserver of health, beauty and strength, according to the advice of a health expert.

Novel Blotter Pad.
To save the time wasted by pen users in picking up and laying aside ordinary blotters, a western inventor has devised a means for attaching the absorbent paper to the wrist, where it is available for instant use, but does not interfere with the movement of the writer's hand. The contrivance includes a curved leather holder, into which a small blotter can be fitted, and a strap for fastening the device in place.

Paper Collar Protects Plants.
A collar of paper has been made for protecting the stems of delicate plants after they have been placed in the ground. These are often attacked by the cut worm, which cuts them off short and kills the plant, but the worm cannot get through the paper collar.

"YOUR MEDICINE IS O. K."

Mrs. Chas. Rule, New Diggins, Wis., writes: "Your medicine is O. K. I think Foley's Honey and Tar is the best for coughs. I think your medicine is all you say it is. I know I would never be without it. You may use my name." Foley's Honey and Tar acts quickly, checks coughs, colds and croup, cuts the phlegm, opens air passages and allays irritation. It stops sleep-disturbing coughing at night. Children like it. Contains no opiates.
