CAUSE OF POUNDING ENGINE

If Regular and Continuous It is Likely to Be From Lost Motion in the Bearings.

If a pound in the engine is regular and continuous it is likely to be from lost motion in the bearings. If it is irregular and occasional it is more likely to be due to preignition caused by incandescent carbon or from imperfect electrical connections. If the pounding is accompanied by occasional missing, especially if the missing is more frequent when the car is running than when the engine is idling, it is more apt to be due to imperfect electrical connections.

ESCHEW CHEAP GREASE CUPS

More Than Likely to Become Worthless in Short Time When New Ones Must be Bought.

Cheap grease cups are more than likely to become worthless in a short time. It is almost impossible for the ordinary man to turn one of these cups down, and even if he is able to, the operation may not send the grease home where it is needed. The only remedy for this condition is to install really efficient grease cups or get a lubrication system of the kind that puts grease in the bearings under high pressure.

TO REPLACE VALVE SPRINGS

Good Plan to Compress Each in Vise Until Short Enough to Go Easily Into Place.

An easy way of replacing valve springs consists of compressing each spring in a vise until it is short enough to go easily into place and allowing the holding key to be inserted, and, while in this compressed condition, tying it with wire so that it cannot expand. After it is in place and the key is put in the wire is clipped and removed.

PLAN FOR THINNING CEMENT

High-Test Gasoline of Bisulphide of Carbon is Proper Agent—Oil is Deadly Foe.

The attention of car owners should be directed to the inadvisability of thinning rubber cement with ordinary gasoline, which contains too much oil to be safe for that purpose. Oil is a deadly foe of rubber. High-test gasoline or bisulphide of carbon is the proper agent for thinning rubber cement.

FIX CRACKED WATER JACKET

Not as Serious Trouble as Many Imagine—Examine to See if There is Leak in Cylinder.

A cracked water jacket is not as serious trouble as one might imagine. The cylinder should be removed and the inside examined to make sure that there is no leak into the cylinder. If there is, that must be repaired also. If not, the leak in the water jacket can be welded and the casting made serviceable again.
