National Capitol's Construction. The foundation of the central structure of the present capitol at Washington was completed August 24, 1918. This central structure and the dome were finished in 1929. In 1855 the early dome was torn away and the present dome was completed in 1864. The two great marble wings were finished in 1850. The statue of the Goddess of Freedom, which rests upon the dome, was designed by Thomas Crawford, father of F. Marion Crawford the novelist, in 1855.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Fall Short of Greatness. What the world calls greatness is a kind of plant which requires the right kind of human soil and moisture and light for its proper growth. Many a youth who was the idol of his classmates and professors at college, because they regarded him as a man of the future, disappointed expectations because he was never able to find after leaving college the right social atmosphere.—Chicago Journal.

BREAKING A HORSE TO RIDE

Take Plenty of Time and Do Not Frighten Young Animal—Teach Gait Separately.

When a horse is to be used for riding it is well first to break him to drive single and double. This will make him quieter to ride.

Horses usually buck through fear. In breaking one to ride, take plenty of time and do not frighten him. Put on the saddle and lead him around until he becomes accustomed to it. Do not have the girth too tight. The horse may be tied up for a time and later turned into a paddock with the saddle on.

Next accustom the horse to being mounted, getting on and off a number of times. The assistant should have a lead rope tied around the horse's neck and run through the rings of a snaffle bit. If the horse attempts to play up, punish him with a jerk on the bit. Let the assistant lead the horse with rider around until the horse is familiar with the weight on his back, then dismount the assistant. If the horse becomes rebellious, pull his head sharply to one side; do not let him get it down. The first few rides should be in a small inclosure.

The gait should be taught separately. The first few rides should be the walk; next teach the trot, and then the canter. Spurs should not be used until the horse is well broken. Most saddle horses can be taught to rack. To teach a horse to rack, he should be shod with light shoes or none at all in front and heavy shoes behind. Sitting well back in the saddle, just force the horse out of a walk and he will soon rack. Keep him at it for only a short distance at a time, as it is a new gait to him and tiresome at first. After the gait is learned the duration of the lesson may be gradually lengthened.

Many Shoes Made From One. When a Mexican automobile refuses to wear an old shoe any longer, the shoe is sold for a few cents to a poor native; whereupon he and his family wear it. He cuts the shoe into thick slices which vary according to the size of the family's feet; thus out of one shoe he makes many. They retain their natural shape and are bound around the feet with thongs. In rainy weather nonskid shoes are worn by some of the more prosperous natives.—Popular Science Monthly.

Odd Newspaper Subscriptions. Greenland hasn't many newspapers of any kind, but the oddest of them all is a monthly paper called the Kalorikmit. (Did you get your tongue twisted after pronouncing this name?) The most unusual thing about this paper is that a three months' subscription costs two ducks, while it requires a sable skin to pay for a year.

Japan's Man-Faced Crab.

One of the most singular looking creatures that ever walked the earth or "swam" the waters under the earth is the man-faced crab of Japan. Its body is scarcely an inch in length, yet the head is filled with a face which is the counterpart of a Chinese coolie—a veritable missing link, with eyes, nose and mouth all clearly defined.
