Grass Is Burned—
The people living along Lawndridge avenue held what might be termed a "community burning bee" last night. A grass fire which had been started became a little too hot and the fire department was called out. After all the people were out, they kept the dry grass burning to reduce the fire menace and also get rid of the grasshoppers which had become a nuisance. The blaze appeared so bright at one time that it looked as if the whole north end of town might be in flames.
