Mr. Sparks says the plant has grown into a big industry and turns out a very fine grade of cement. Every community along the railroad reports big crops this year and an increase is being shown in freight shipments, declares the agent.—Eugene Guard.

G. M. Skinner Dies—

George M. Skinner died this morning at 5:15, death being caused by a nervous breakdown and heart failure. He came here about a year ago in an effort to regain his health but it has steadily failed. A cousin, Richard Roiston, arrived this morning from Seattle. Word is being awaited from a nephew, Gilbert Skinner, of Seattle, as to the disposal of the remains. The body will probably be sent to Seattle for burial.

The longer the run the cheaper the rate at the Courier merchant printing department.

Fines Are Paid—

A fine of $25 was assessed on E. S. Good by Justice of the Peace Holman yesterday for hunting without a license, with a 22 caliber special. The case against Herbert E. Ament and Earl H. Woodley was taken under advisement, Judge Holman desiring to find out from the game commission the stand they have taken. The young men were charged with hunting without a license, having had arms in their possession while in the woods. L. F. Nixon and J. H. Shorb were found not guilty of hunting without a license but were found guilty of fishing without a license and were fined a nominal sum. The arrests were made Saturday by Game Warden George Bancroft.
