There would be fewer spendthrifts if all young people were taught to watch where their money goes.

The bank account is a great help in forming habits of thrift and gives an insight into modern business methods.

NOBLE GRANDS' CHRISTMAS
Provide Tree and Gifts for Children of Lodge Members

If "Santa" did arrive a few hours late from schedule he was no less welcomed by the happy little folks with their families and friends who gathered at the I. O. O. F. hall Monday night to celebrate the Christmas season. The big tree from its star-crowned top to its snow-covered base, with its rainbow lights and brilliant ornaments, the more than a hundred dainty baskets filled with delicious home made candies, the pop corn balls, the many useful and ornamental little gifts, all were the Christmas gift of the Past Noble Grands' club of Etna Rebekah lodge No. 49, I. O. O. F., to the children of the lodge members.

Christmas songs and recitations given by the little children, a four-hand piano selection by Melba Macy and Eleanor Cougle, a piano solo by Josephine Isham, made a most pleasing program. After everybody had been presented with a gift the remainder of the evening was spent in visiting, games and dancing.

Thanks are due Mrs. Jeannie Burk and Mrs. F. Y. Johnson and their willing assistants for the delightful evening and its pleasant memories.

Wallace Reid's New Picture Scores
Admittedly one of the most popular of screen stars, it was to be expected Wallace Reid's new picture, "The Love Special," should have scored heavily when it was shown at the Christmas matinee for the first time. It is a dramatic photograph, the scenes of which are laid on a railroad division in the Rocky mountains. Mr. Reid is a construction engineer and he proves himself a man's man in every scene. The locomotive ride through a blizzard is extremely realistic and it is alone worth the price of admittance. Agnes Ayres heads a strong supporting company. This attraction holds the boards until tonight.

Kindergarten to Reopen—
Miss Emma Telford will reopen her kindergarten at 411 C street, on Tuesday, January 2.

Ryan Pleads Guilty—
George Ryan entered a plea of guilty today in the justice court to a charge of having intoxicants in his possession and for the sale of intoxicating liquor. Sentence will be passed later. The trial of Bob Blackburn on the same charges was in progress this afternoon, a jury having been drawn. Blackburn retained Attorney Roberts of Medford to defend him.
