SCHOOL FUND LOANS

Some time ago the farmers of a northern irrigation district sent a resolution to the legislature asking that the state school funds be made available for farmers residing within an irrigation district, these farmers at the present time being unable to secure loans from the federal farm loan board or from the state school funds. The farmers of irrigation districts in other parts of the state should make a concerted effort to get the legislature to open these school funds for their use as well as for the farmer who does not have irrigation.

At a time when irrigation is being introduced into a community, the land owner is faced by the task of clearing his lands and getting it cropped, a process which required a rather liberal amount of capital to start with. If the school funds were made available at a low rate of interest to him with a long time period for repayment there is no doubt that his way would be made much easier. Lands under irrigation districts which have shown that they are to the successful are just as good security as lands which do not lie within an irrigation district.
It seems rather strange that such a discrimination should be made for it is generally the irrigation districts which turn out to be the most prosperous farming sections.

The matter should be taken up with the legislature through the proper organizations which represent the farmers. There are on file now numerous requests for loans through the federal government but these are not forthcoming. The farmer should have a supply of money available at a low interest rate, such as provided by the school funds, whether it is in or outside of an irrigation project.

Origin of Ice Cream.

The editor of a British ice cream and soda water trade publication says ice cream was not invented by an American negro, but was known to the Romans and to the Chinese and Japs in 1200 A. D. When Queen Catherine de Medici left Florence to marry the king of France, she took Italian ice cream chefs with her, while Charles I had a cook who possessed the secret recipe.

Whence the Name Death Valley.
Death valley, a low desert, in Inyo county, California, near the Nevada border, was given its name by a survivor of an immigrant party of 30, who, in 1849 or 1850, lost their way there and of whom, after enduring indescribable sufferings, 18 perished in the sands.

The First Tomb.

The Emperor Constantine, who died in 337, is supposed to have been the first person who ordered his tomb to be erected in a church. This was done in the Church of the Apostles at Constantinople, of which he was the founder.

Gossip of Staff Correspondents

Population

Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—(A. N. S.) —Modernist art—splashes of purples, greens and pinks—in the staid old Quaker City? Horrors! say the spirits of the founders.

Yet Philadelphia bids fair to become the "radical" center for artists as the result of a $6,000,000 fund established by Dr. Albert C. Barnes for the erection of a museum on his estate at Merion, a suburb, to house his $2,000,000 collection of the work of modernist painters.

Although the interior of the museum may be a kaleidoscope of hues the exterior at least will conform to established standards, for Paul P.
Cret, distinguished architect, has been ordered to draw the plans.

In announcing the fund, Dr.
Barnes said: "Primarily the hope is that every person of every station in life will be allowed to get his own reaction to whatever the foundation has to offer. That means that academism conformity to worn-out traditions, counterfeits in art, living and thinking—can have no place in the intended scope of the museum."

The powers that control the destinies of Philadelphia's Zoo recently showed their opinion of the success of prohibition by opening a snake house double the size of the old one.

Singing of well-known songs in Latin has become one of the forms of mild dissipation indulged in by the Classical League of this city. The poor "Old Gray Mare" has been resurrected and hurled back two thousand years into the following Roman ditty:

"O equa glauca non est qualis erat, Non est qualis erat."

"O equa glauca non est qualis erat, Multis ante annis!"

A policeman on the street, bearing the sound, paused, consulted his rule book and, with a sigh, returned to his beat. There are some of them you can't arrest.

"Fanchon," a diminutive French doll of the period of the Empire of Napoleon the Third, has just become one of the treasured possessions of the treasured possessions of the Pennsylvania museum. The little lady of long ago has brought with her a marvelous wardrobe and a whole box of jewelry. There are dresses for every occasion—all of the old hoop-skirt pattern—and Paisley shawls; also stiff silk gowns of the very heaviest material, which once were marks of social standing.

There are twelve hats, one to suit each costume. Diamond earrings, finger rings and necklaces are included in the jewels. Among other possessions of "Fanchon" are tiny calling cards and a set of little books.

Ah, yes, "Fanchon" is quite Parisian! Also, quite out of date, for (keep it a secret) her unmentionables have full length sleeves and button tightly up to the chin.

An example of the innate honesty of Philadelphians was given the other day when a man placed five bucks on the sidewalk near a busy intersection. Although many pedestrians stopped to look none made any attempt to pick them up.

Perhaps it was because of their weight. They had just come fresh from the Maine woods.

O dear!

A "Drive" Victim.

"Riches don't necessarily bring happiness to their possessor," remarked Mr. Grubbin, "but once a man acquires wealth it's extraordinary how many times a day earnest callers will tell him he's in a position to contribute to the happiness of others."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

KIDNEY TROUBLE
CAUSES LAMENESS

"A lameness followed me for some time, and I felt that it was caused from kidney trouble. One bottle of Foley Kidney Pills had the desired effect," writes H. B. Arhuckle, South Barre, Vermont. Backache, rheumatism, dull headache, too frequent or burning urination are symptoms of kidney and bladder trouble. Dis-ordered kidneys require prompt treatment. Neglect causes serious complications. Foley Kidney Pills macy, adv.
