Mascagni will be 60 next month. The new work is a 3-act Roman story of the Imperial epoch, staged in Rome.

DOGS' NERVES MAY BE GRAFTED INTO HUMANS

London, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Dog nerves may soon be an ordinary substitute for worn-out human nerves. Dr. Gossset, distinguished French surgeon recently told British surgeons that he has taken the fresh nerve of a dog and grafted it on the ulnar nerve in a man's arm, with excellent results. Sensibility was obtained in the man's arm in 148 days and the power of movement in 240 days.

SUMMER BUSINESS IS BETTER

Volume Greater Than for Corresponding Period Last Season

San Francisco, Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—The volume of summer business in the seven states of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District is considerably larger this year than for the corresponding period last year, according to a report today by Federal Reserve Agent Perrin.

SAYS ETERNAL THINGS ARE IGNORED BY MEN

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—"We find men investing in horses, camels and dates, in orchards and sheep, or other things of the world, but they make few investments in the things of eternity—friendship, charity and love," asserted Rev. W. A. Stimson, local Episcopalian rector. "Christ does not condemn wealth as such, but the misuse of wealth," continued Rev. Dr. Stimson. "He does not laud poverty as such, but shows that it is a condition when material prosperity does not prevent one from thinking of and seeing God."

GASOLINE PROBE IS WANTED

States Attorneys General Asked to Make Investigation

Minneapolis, Aug. 22.—(A. P.)—States attorneys-general of the United States were asked today by Charles G. Griffith and George E. Short, attorneys general of Kansas and Oklahoma, respectively, to start a nation-wide investigation of the oil industry to determine if the "Standard Oil Company is manipulating the gasoline market to put 40,000 mid-country producers out of business."

RIOTING MARKS ELECTIONS OF DAIL EIREANN

BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED WHILE VOTERS CAST BALLOTS FOR MEMBERS

NO POLITICAL ISSUES RAISED

Labour, Farmers and Independents And Others Put Up Candidates For Sectional Interests

Dublin, Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—Lively rifle and machine gun fire occurred in Dublin early today. National troops are patrolling the streets during the Dail election.

Dublin, Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—The Irish Free State is today holding a general election to return members to the Dail Eireann. The day everywhere is a public holiday, all banks being closed and business suspended. All Irish men and women over 21 years of age are entitled to the franchise.

The election is comparatively quiet. Except for the intervention of Mr. De Valera, no political issue is raised, and various groups of farmers, labour and independents, besides individuals unconnected with any group, will put forward candidates aimed at the promotion of sectional interests. None of them is planning a displacement of the existing government. It is calculated that no party can return a majority of the house, and that the ministry must therefore rely on support from a combination of groups, though all are agreed in repudiating the name of a coalition.

The seats of all the principal ministers are regarded as safe. Labour hopes to return 40 members, double its present strength, and the farmers hope for as many. It is not known whether Mr. De Valera can find the 39 candidates he contemplates. In perhaps half a dozen constituencies his candidate is expected to receive a quota of votes, but the success of the others will depend on how the transferable votes of labour, farmer and independent candidates are distributed. In any event no forecast puts the number of republican successes higher than 20. These would all refuse the oath of allegiance and boycott the new parliament.

Mr. De Valera himself is standing for Clare, his old constituency. He is still "on the run," and a leading minister has declared that while this government holds office he will be "kept on the run."

There has been a slight agitation as to the unfairness of disfranchising the 12,000 prisoners, but Mr. De Valera has attached little importance to that, provided an unimpeded appeal is allowed to the people throughout the country willing to vote republican. The imprisonment is more serious than the mere loss

CROWN IS STABILIZED WHILE MARK DROPPING

Vienna, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Austria is no longer the "paradise" of German vacationers. The crown, for years the "poor relation" of the German mark, is now stabilized, while the mark keeps on in its fatal plunge.

Yet, stabilization, which is the direct result of the American loan that put Austria back on its feet, has not served as a check to the steady upward trend of prices in Austria. The cost of living is mounting from day to day. If Austrians want to get any benefit from their money they go to Germany. Just as a year ago—and even six months ago—Germans came to Austria to spend their marks. At Bad Gastein, the fashionable summer resort, one day costs—for a modest tourist—300,000 Austrian crowns. That is, at the present rate of exchange, forty-five million marks, or approximately $46. Thus Austria, a year ago the cheapest country in Europe, has become the most expensive.

IOWA FURNISHES SIXTH OF CHICAGOANS' BUTTER

Waterloo, Ia., Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Iowa supplied the Chicago market with 16.2 per cent of all the butter received in the Windy City last month. A total of 3,869,212 pounds of Iowa butter was shipped to Chicago in June, according to the records of the Iowa Creamery Secretaries and Managers' Association. In 1922 the state's creameries brought $48,462,805 into the state from the sale of butter in markets outside Iowa. New York City received 43,489,000 pounds of Iowa butter last year and Chicago 40,735,000 pounds.

ALBANIANS LEAVING SERBIA

Railway Stations Congested With Refugees

Sofia, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Railway stations in Serbia and Bulgaria along the Sofia-Constantinople line present a picture these days that is reminiscent of the times when Belgian refugees were fleeing before the advance of the German armies. Hundreds of Albanians migrating from Serbia to Asia Minor through the deserts.

Authorities in every town have refused to admit the refugees, and hence they are compelled to congregate in the stations as they await trains to their intended destinations. Train service is infrequent, and many spend days huddled, with their pitiful belongings, in any temporary shelter they can find—or without shelter.

The refugees are rather a sorry lot. There is a large percentage of women and children, with many old men. They carry all their personal belongings in bags and bundles, to which they cling with ferocious tenacity. One aged woman, closely veiled, for they are all Mohammedans, carried in a bag a rooster and a hen, her pets, in the hope of having them wherever she might settle. An old man clung desperately to an alarm clock and never allowed other hands to touch it.

As there are many prosperous Albanians living in Bulgaria the Albanian consul at Sofia had obtained permission of the Bulgarian government for the refugees to settle in this country. He got a distinct shock when the pilgrims refused to accept Bulgarian hospitality.

PINCHOT SAYS COAL WALKOUT NOT PERMITTED

MINERS AND OPERATORS TOLD BLUNTLY THAT MINING MUST CONTINUE

MEETINGS ARE HELD TODAY

Pennsylvania Chief Deals Separately With Owners and Workers—Reads His Address Today

Harrisburg, Penn., Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—Governor Pinchot assembled the leaders of each side in the anthracite controversy around his office table today and told them bluntly that the proposed suspension of mining on September 1 could not be allowed. Scarcely a sound interrupted the governor as he read his address. He said he would deal separately with each side and the representatives of the miners and operators agreed. Thanking them, Pinchot announced that the meeting would adjourn until 2 p. m., when the miners will come to his private offices.

LYNN SABIN IS LEAVING CITY

Secretary of Local Chamber of Commerce Going to Klamath Falls

Lynn Sabin, for the past two years secretary of the Grants Pass Chamber of Commerce, will leave for Klamath Falls next month to take a similar position with the Klamath organization. Mr. Sabin intends to present his resignation to the members of the board of directors of the local chamber this afternoon at a special meeting. He does not intend to take up his duties with the Klamath chamber until September 20, although he will spend a few days there previous to that time.

Mr. Sabin expresses regret at leaving Grants Pass as he thinks the city has a good future. "I am convinced of the future of Grants Pass," he said, "for, located as it is at the junction of the highways it is destined to be the largest city in southern Oregon within a few years, if conditions remain as they now are. I have enjoyed hearty cooperation here from everybody and could not wish more in any community into which I may go. I am looking forward to the time when I can come back and go into business, whether business or in the Chamber of Commerce work."

During the time Mr. Sabin has been secretary of the Chamber of Commerce the membership has been built up to 215 from 87 paid up members. The organization has printed and distributed 62,000 pieces of publicity literature to tourists and inquirers. Thousands of inquiries have been answered by letter in an effort to interest people in this locality. The office rooms have been moved from the second floor of the Peerless building to the first floor in the Grants Pass and Josephine bank building. The organization of the Cavemen was also effected.

By 6:20 in the afternoon he was back in Bremen.

CONNECTICUT LABOR IS TO OPERATE OWN BANKS

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Organized labor in Connecticut will attempt to do its own banking business. The coming year will see Labor Banks established at Hartford, Waterbury, Bridgeport and New Haven, according to a decision of a special committee appointed at the last annual meeting of the Connecticut Federation of Labor. Patrick F. O'Meara, of New Haven, president of the federation, is permanent chairman of the new state-labor banking commission.

JUAREZ IS HIT BY FLOOD

Many Are Homeless as Result of High Water of Rio Grande

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 27.—(A. P.)—Hundreds of people fled from their homes in the lowlands of Juarez, Mexico, today fearing a further rise of the Rio Grande which Friday drove 1200 from their homes. Many adobe houses were reduced to mud heaps by the water which stands two feet deep in many Juarez streets. Bread lines and soup kitchens are feeding the homeless.

INDIA HAS RELIGIOUS RIOTS

PREFERS PENITENTIARY TO TERM IN REFORMATORY

Chicago, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—Illinois penitentiaries seem to be growing tame.

"We have reached the point where we send hardened criminals to the Pontiac Reformatory and first offenders to the penitentiary," commented Criminal Court Judge Davis after Elmer Green, 23, who pleaded guilty to robbery with a weapon, expressed his preference for the penitentiary.

The prisoner's counsel explained that in the penitentiary prisoners were eligible for parole in eleven months, where in Pontiac they are often held 23 months.

FIELDS OF NORTHERN FRANCE ARE RETURNED TO PRODUCTION BY DESTRUCTION OF SHELL DUMPS

London, Aug. 27.—(I. N. S.)—The battlefields of Northern France are returning to their pre-war appearance, and green fields are now taking the place of the battle-scarred and trench-furrowed countryside, according to Fred N. Pickett, who has organized the breaking up of the huge dumps of ammunition and war material in France and Belgium.

The whole of Northern France has been cleaned up, says Pickett. Poison gas has been dissipated, and some 350,000 tons of materials have been returned to commercial use. "Each month for the past three years," Pickett said in an interview, "5,000 men have dealt with 1,000,000 shells, half a million grenades, and three-quarters of a million fuses, representing the breaking up of 20,000 tons monthly. "My organization's primary object in breaking up the ammunition was to extract the fuse from the shell. "The shells were put in a crude cubicle," he said, describing the breaking up operations, "buttressed with sandbags and railway sleepers, through which the end of the shell protruded, so the workmen could operate with special fuse tools. The fuse, having been extracted, the charge was then either washed or burnt out. "Millions of rounds of ammunition and belts of charges for quick firing guns were dealt with by an appliance which ripped out the bullets and separated the brass case from the copper attachments, while a water sluice swept away the powder. "Pickett thinks that the Allies and America produced much superior ammunition during the latter part of the war, but says that Germany's TNT was perfect and never equalled.

They completed the first seven laps over a 50 kilometer course at an average speed of 89 miles an hour. Then failed in two previous attempts on June 27 and 28.

BUSINESS RUSHING IN COURT

Three Appear Today in Justice Court. Two Pay Fines

Business in the office of the justice of the peace was good today. The first item on the schedule for the day was a charge against George I. Cooper, preferred by Game Warden Bancroft. Cooper was found guilty of hunting without a license and his gun was taken from him and a fine of $25 and costs assessed. He loses his right to hunt this year. He has been in the state a year and a half, coming here recently from Klamath Falls. A fine of $10 and costs was assessed to William P. Deardorff, of Roseburg, who was picked up Saturday night on his way from the city at Medford. The charge against him was for speeding, this being preferred by the state traffic officer.

The third case was that against Joe Bellen, a youth of 17, who was accused of stealing a bicycle belonging to a local youth. The lad was picked up by Chief McLane and held until his trial. He was given a 30-day suspended jail sentence and is now working at the box factory. He was following the circus and gives his home as Amsterdam, New York.
