THE COST OF GOVERNMENT

The cost of the running of the government for a year is never realized until the time arrives for the making out of the budget for the next year. For 1924 in Josephine county alone, not counting the city taxes, there must be raised over a quarter of a million dollars. The city of Grants Pass takes $50,000 and the federal government, through the income tax, must raise another large amount. By the time all of the branches of government are cared for, the taxes have become a real problem.

The cost of maintaining a government is large. The federal government must keep an army and navy, second to none, and must have funds for the varied activities in which it engages. The state must have money to build roads, pay state officials and do other things not attempted by the federal government.
The county must take care of more local affairs and the city needs money to keep up the streets, sewers and other conveniences.

It has been only in late years that the cost have been mounting. Economists declare that the increase is due to the demand of the people for paved roads, more public conveniences and other things which are destined to raise the standard of living. The American people want these things and are willing to pay the costs. They know that good roads will raise their ability to pay the taxes. They know that the public school system must be maintained to foster that spirit of democracy desired in every American. They know that these things take money —lots of it—and yet are willing to pay the bill.

FILIPINO LEGISLATORS MAY

RETURN TO NATIVE DRESS

Manila, Oct. 6.—(A. P.)—Restoration of the colorful native "barong" as the attire of Filipino legislators is proposed in a resolution submitted by Representative Rafael Villanueva in the House of Representatives.
Heretofore native lawmakers have sported the approved American dress, but many believe it would be more patriotic to return to the original fashion of the Philippines.

The "barong" is a shirt-like garment, with a narrow neck-band and takes the place of both shirt and coat. Worn outside the belt of the trousers, it gives Americans the impression that the wearer had dressed hastily and neglected to tuck his shirt into his trousers.

Big Shipment of Ore.
More than 8,000 tons of iron ore, an amount equal to the cargo of the average lake steamship, was carried recently on one train from the mine region in northern Minnesota to Superior, Wis.

ALLEGED HOLDUPS ARE HELD

given as about 30. The other man wore a dark brown suit with a light stripe. He had a dark hat. His age was also about 30. One had the appearance of a drug addict and the second had a slight deformity on his neck or shoulder, giving him a twisted appearance.

The car is being held at a local garage.

Los Angeles, Oct. 6.—Motion picture comedies, in which policemen are depicted in contemptuous and would-be humorous roles and situations, are really incubators of crime.
At least Chief of Police August Vollmer, of Los Angeles, is out with a statement and proposes to secure better treatment for policemen on the screen where the copper will no longer be hurled into flour bins, plastered with custard pies or unceremoniously dumped into mud holes.

Vollmer, who gained fame for himself and his city as the "scientific cop" when he was chief of police of Berkeley, California, is a student of psychology as a means of crime detection.

The chief not only hopes to see the end of such misrepresentations in pictures which bring law and those who enforce it into contempt and disrepute, but he hopes for the day when the policeman will appear before the public as a shining angel of right and justice, regarded as a friend of the public, always ready to protect it and look after its every interest.

Chief Vollmer bitterly assailed the motion picture comedy in which members of the police force are held up to ridicule and contempt by casting them as clowns and as the goat of everything.

Besides the injustice of heaping ridicule upon a particular element of the community, the effect is serious and evil in its results, the chief said.

"Such comedies are harmless in their intent," he said, "They are in reality in incubator of crime. Through a psychological process they sow the seed of contempt of authority.
What is first viewed through the light of comedy by repetition becomes the means of causing contempt of the men who are to enforce the laws. From this state of mind a contempt of law and authority follows as a natural corollary.
When there exists a state of mind that holds contempt for law and its representatives it is but a short step to the violation of the law.
