OREGON WEATHER

Pacific Coast States: Occasional rain, except snow in the mountains. Temperature about normal, except colder latter part of week over north portion.

Fair tonight. Saturday fair except probably rain in north-west Oregon.

ONLY TWO MORE DAYS

Only two more shopping days before Christmas! That warning should be sufficient to bring out every one tomorrow who has not already got the Christmas presents purchased and wrapped up, ready to put on the tree. The stores will be open tonight. They open early tomorrow morning. The best way to avoid the last minute rush will be to get the shopping done tonight or tomorrow morning for Saturday afternoon is certain to be an extremely busy few hours. It will help the merchant and save you a lot of delay and needless waiting.

And don't forget the poor. The churches and other agencies have funds to care for those in need and will appreciate the sending in of names of those who need the care.

Eels. Eels found in rivers and creeks of the United States are hatched from eggs laid near Bermuda in the southern part of the North Atlantic ocean.

3 Days to Christmas

August Seinsche Dead

August Seinsche, an old prospector, was found dead in his cabin at Galice this morning, according to a message received by the county court. There were no signs of violence and it is thought that an inquest will not be necessary as the evidences point to death being brought on by old age.

Holiday Dance Tonight

A dance, sponsored by the Jewel orchestra, to which all high school students and alumni of the high school are invited, will be given tonight at the W. O. W. hall. Dancing will start at 8:30 and continue until midnight. Miss Bessie Graham will give a feature dance. Parents are invited to attend the affair.

Shortest Day of Year

Today is the shortest day of the year, with the sun rising at 7:26 o'clock and due to set at 4:39. The hours for rising and setting are also given for the same time for December 22. After tomorrow the days will again start to lengthen out with the hours of daylight increasing a few minutes each day.

Will Have Tree

Monday evening after work the employees of the courthouse will hold their annual Christmas tree. Each person draws the name of some one at the courthouse for whom they are to buy a 15 cent present. The drawing was held this morning and the employees are looking forward to much amusement when the various packages are opened.

Food Will Be Given

A window full of groceries and food stuffs, to the amount of $250, is being shown in the Valley grocery. The food is being donated by the local Ka Klux Klan for relief for the needy during the holidays, according to a sign in the window.

Abiding Faith

We live best by faith, dear brethren, not what we call knowledge. We are mischiefmakers frequently with the facts we assemble. I suppose this is the reason why we have never yet been permitted to lay our hands for sure upon the mystery of truth and everlasting life. Go ahead with your diggings and your discoveries. You cannot reach beyond the short-winded powers of mortal men to know.—Saturday Evening Post.

A Heaping Measure of Pleasure with the Gulbransen

Picture a beautiful Gulbransen in your home, and you playing it!

Picture yourself playing, through the pedals, with the "touch" of a musician!

Picture the keys being pressed down, as in hand playing! Pressed down, not knocked down. There's one of the secrets of Gulbransen superiority. It removes all suggestion of the mechanical and gives you real, intimate, personally-produced music, full of genuine expression.

Because the Gulbransen is a Registering Piano, registering your exact touch and expression—because it is different from any player-piano you have ever known—because it is so remarkably easy to pedal—your first delight will develop into continued, year-after-year interest.

Scots Made Pistols. Before the advent of the American revolver, the Scottish cities of Perth, Stirling and Dundee were great centers of the pistol-making industry. Scottish pistols were famous as far back as 1515, and were exported to many countries. There were at one time nearly 100 concerns in Scotland engaged in the industry.

Harlequin Style. Towards the close of the Eighteenth century furniture makers designed pieces which might have a double or triple use. This was called harlequin furniture. Beds of today that are transformed into mantels or pianos tables which become dressers, chairs that are stepladders are surely examples of harlequin style.

Martyrs of Vice. The martyrs to vice far exceed the martyrs to virtue, both in endurance and in number. So blinded are we by our passions, that we suffer more to be damned than to be saved.—Hannah More.
