Drink Water If Kidneys Bother

Take a Tablespoonful of Salts if Back Pains or Bladder is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

OUCH! LUMBAGO! RUB BACKACHE AWAY

A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache or lumbago pain.

Meaning of "Equinox"

The term equinox means literally "equal night." There are two equinoxes, the vernal and the autumnal, in each year. When they occur the sun passes north or south, over the equator, and the length of night and day is equal over the entire world. The equinoxes occur about the 21st of March and the 21st of September.

AMERICA IS READING BETTER BOOKS NOW

Chicago, Mar. 13.—(A. P.)—If the mind of the average American is indicated in the selection of his books and works of art, then matter tending to sobriety of thought and a desire for knowledge predominates over what some critics and philosophers have termed the "jazz age" and its appeal for material regarding sex, scandal and the criminal. The most noted increase is in the general subject of religion.

Large libraries in division points of the country, universities, literary, music and art institutions, publishers and dealers without exception report an interest in reading and the arts not observed in recent years. The popular demand by groups embraces the subjects of religion, biography, psychology, etiquette, science, astronomy, radio, drama, poetry, home economics and vocations. Fiction circulation maintains its position but librarians report the public is requiring that it be clean.

Art and music enjoy a demand not heretofore as pronounced, due principally to widespread activity of federations and organizations which are endeavoring to promote their interest in the home and community.

One of the largest publishers in Great Britain said he found America the best buyer of good books.

The world war is partly responsible for the era of better reading matter, according to the head of a leading book firm here. Army and navy libraries, depleted of light reading, offered histories, biographies, technical books and essays to the service man, he explains. Once the desire for this kind of reading was created, they became eager to learn. After the war they set about studying books which would prepare them for a new place in the business and social world.

The daily newspaper is another influence in turning the public reader into the channels of literature. Regular book and art review pages have become established features.

Another leading book dealer here believes the age of novels is past and that biography, industrial and technical books and historical novels will to a large extent replace the "flapper" novel dealing with love, crime and sex subjects. He says that where formerly first editions of successful novels ran 250,000 copies they are now, in many instances, less than 100,000 copies. War novels are in the discard although war memoirs by diplomats and officials are still good sellers.

Trade subjects are having a big sale and the brick mason, as an example, who before the war learned his trade by experience, is now backing up this experience with technical knowledge. High wages have enabled the worker to buy good books.

In letters to the American Library Association, the Los Angeles library says the most striking gain in the last year was in applied Christianity and religious education. The two best circulators were a life of Christ and a book on etiquette.

Etiquette, home building, vocations, religion, radio and sports are leading subjects for library patrons in St. Louis.

GAY PARTY FROCKS REVEAL ENDEARING YOUNG CHARMS

SANTA CLAUS brought to many a little miss, home for the holidays, a pretty party frock and added a crowning glory to her joyous vacation. If the kind old saint selected the dress pictured here he is to be congratulated for his good taste. It takes an expert to design anything so frankly simple, so high class and so entirely little-girlish.

Having once given it a good looking over almost any fairly well-equipped needlewoman can make a replica of it. She is to start by selecting a crisp taffeta silk in a light color or in a pretty changeable weave. There is nothing to the design but a plain, rather full skirt with a deep hem, and this it set onto a loose, longwaisted bodice, with full short sleeves and round neck. The neck is bound with a bias fold of the silk, the sleeves finished with a narrow hem, and a wide sash with bonny bow at the back is made of the taffeta. The sash does not extend across the front of the dress, but starts at the sides under a fold of the silk. The important requisite for success in making this dress is neat sewing. It is a piece of handwork which does not present any difficulties except excellent craftsmanship with the needle. Big rosettes of narrow, cream-colored val lace provide the telling decoration and are passed in an original and effective manner. The lace is gathered and sewed to a soft net foundation, row after row. At the center three ribbon or chiffon roses in pastel colors find themselves placed against a perfect background. Bands of narrow ribbon falling from the center of the rosette at the front of the dress are of black velvet.

Silk stockings in flesh color or in a tint to correspond with the dress, and black strap slippers are altogether what they should be for a young miss. There is a challenge in her eyes—and probably the handsomest of all boys is about to dance with a pretty girl in the prettiest of dresses.
