AFFAIRS

One of the greatest matters of pride of the American people is their public school system in which they have placed their faith for a continuance of the principle of democracy.
And yet how many parents take an active interest in the development of their children to the extent that they visit the schools and get acquainted with the instructors who exercise a great influence over the boys and girls? The number is surprisingly small. At a meeting last night of the parents and teachers of the high school there were but 12 present.

The Parent-Teachers' association has been formed for the purpose of letting the parents and the instructors become acquainted. They meet and discuss matters of interest to both the patrons of the school and the teachers. The parents are able to get first hand information as to the conduct of their children and can get suggestions as to what should be done to help them better their studies, yet most parents wait until they get the report cards at the end of the year and if any "flunks" are given, they immediately conceive a great interest in school matters.

One instructor states that he has had but one or two parents visit classes since school started. Some have had no visitors. The school heads are glad to have the parents take an interest in the school affairs for they feel then that their efforts are appreciated. If parents find it impossible to attend the classes, they should at least try to attend the meetings of the parent-teachers' associations of the various schools. These meet once a month and issue a general invitation to parents of children within the schools.

A revival of interest has been noticed in recent school elections. Extend this interest to the point of an occasional visit to the schools or attendance at the association meetings.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 8.—In three United States Geological Reclamation survey, now under way that will render more than 600,000 acres of Texas land tillable by irrigation, it is estimated that between $10,000,000 and $50,000,000 annually will be redeemed in taxes from flood losses alone in addition to the eventual production from the vast acreage to benefit for agricultural purposes.

If the intensive survey now being made through the combined efforts of the Government and the Texas Board of Water Engineers is carried in its entirety, the tremendous project will provide beneficial reaction to territory in practically every section of the state in the matter of water supply for irrigation, allaying flood hazards and the impounding of great quantities of water for domestic and industrial use.

Close study of the volume of the variation of volume at present is believed the state with approximately 100 hydrographic stations under operation.

The purpose of the stations is to provide the necessary data for the construction of irrigation projects, flood control works, city water supply, manufacturing and other economic needs.

Irrigation sites under contemplation involving millions of dollars include the cities of Brownwood, Bronte, San Angelo, San Saba, Waco, Cottulla, Fort Worth, Seymour, Crowell, Three Rivers, Sabin, Dill and Pecos. The Fort Worth and Waco projects are largely for the supplying of water for city use, while the other enterprises are mainly for irrigation. The proposed system at Bronte is the largest of the group and will irrigate some 125,000 acres of land in that vicinity.

Major C. E. Cook, in charge of Federal activity, states that actual survey work has been completed on many sites. Five sections of the total outlay at Belton have been surveyed, two sections at Waco along the Brazos River, seven on the Brazos, south of Granberry, two sections of Wylie, on the Trinity, and four sections on the Brazos, near Mineral Wells.

"Texas has never before seen the possibilities of development as these surveys will enable it to see in the future," Maj. Cook declared. "From ten to fifty millions of dollars are lost every year in floods and this could be prevented for an indefinite period if flood prevention methods were taken. San Antonio could have prevented its last disastrous flood for less than the flood itself cost her."

"Imagine," he said, "flying over Texas in an airplane and viewing reservoir after reservoir with factories and irrigated productive farms where now there stretches only bleak, sun-baked unutilized acres by the hundreds of thousands."

And in speaking of aeroplanes, the survey chief declared arrangements had been completed whereby the Government Air Service will cooperate with the State and Federal surveyors by flying over and photographing all of the contemplated area. In this manner the desired data will be acquired at half the expense and time devoted to each territory under the old methods.

An even more comprehensive survey of the possibilities of Texas' reclamation has been outlined for the coming fiscal year. Major Cook stated, involving every section of the state where irrigation is feasible.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION
WILL MEET NEXT JUNE

Los Angeles, Cal., April 8.—(I. N.
S.)—"Who Shall Inherit the United States?" and "War or Peace?" will be two of many outstanding problems presented for discussion before organized women in the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs here June 2-13.

While the program has been made out only in outline, it is known that immigration and Americanism, and international relations will be given outstanding place, together with all other problems affected by these.

Oswald Ryan, commissioner who accompanied Secretary of Labor Davis overseas, will be a speaker on the legislative sessions in charge of Mrs.
Edward Franklin White, legislative chairman in the General Federation and Deputy Attorney General of Indiana, who was first president and who is now vice-president of the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement. Mrs. White will be a prominent speaker in Washington April 10 and 11 before a preliminary convention of that committee, with Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs.
Robert Lansing, Mrs. Elmer Blair, of New York and other prominent women taking part. Proceedings in Washington at this time will largely determine the trend of discussion.

Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, who has just made a national survey on law enforcement as applied to the liquor laws and released a map showing that even with lax enforcement the country is more than 61 per cent bone dry, will be a speaker at the Los Angeles legislative luncheon.
She is expected to make considerable of an expose that will result in a more drastic stand of organized women in the matter of prohibition and prohibition enforcement officers.

In this connection, Imogen B. Oakley, of Philadelphia, chairman of the Division of Civil Service, is expected to introduce a resolution having the 2,500,000 women of the Federation demand that all law enforcement officers be placed under Civil Service.

In addition to the legislative programs of the biennial convention, a day each will be given to discussion of various problems of education, public welfare, fine arts, American citizenship and foreign relations.

months for an infected animal to recover. Because of this and also of the fact that it is highly communicable, animals are generally killed when they get the disease. Thousands of animals have been slaughtered since the foot and mouth disease first broke out in California. It takes 90 days to disinfect a ranch after it has been ravaged.

Working with Dr. Lytle on the placing of the patrols is H. H. Green, assistant state veterinarian. They have secured the cooperation of officials of the county who will aid them in every way possible.

Sacramento, Cal., Apr. 8.—(A.
P.)—Officials of the state department of agriculture announced that two new outbreaks in the Merced district were the principal developments in the foot and mouth epidemic situation since Saturday.

Los Angeles, Cal., Apr. 8.—(A.
P.)—Cases of foot and mouth diseases were reported discovered in a valuable certified herd of 225 cows of the Cold Spring Dairy farm in Pasadena, near here, according to state and federal officials. This is the fourth case reported out of the Vernon quarantined area here. It is estimated that approximately 4300 head of cattle and 1000 head of swine have been sacrificed in this county to date.
