Senior Boys' Quartet Is Entertained With Dinner Party

One of the most interesting events of the Easter season was the dinner given in honor of the senior boys' quartet by Miss Virginia Roy, manager of the quartet, at her home on North Fifth street, on Tuesday evening. The Easter colors of yellow and white were the inspiration for the charming decorations. The table was spread under a canopy of yellow and white. From this crepe paper streamers of the same colors were extended to the corners of the table, where brown and white Easter rabbits held reign. A profusion of English buttercups formed the centerpiece, carrying out the color note. The place cards were Easter eggs adorned with handpainted yellow song birds. At each place programs with the lists of toasts were found which were also handpainted with yellow birds. Following the dinner the evening was spent with games and music. Those present were: Miss Clara Harbeck, Miss Nettie Coover, Miss Bernice Coon, Chester Edgerton, Blaine Pruitt, Don Barnes, LeRoy Stevens and the hostess.

"Get Acquainted Tea" Is Held By Ladies of Baptist Church

The ladies of the Baptist church held a most interesting "Get Acquainted Tea" on Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. The rooms were beautifully decorated with wild flowers and apple blossoms a unique feature being that there were ferns gathered near Oakland, Oregon, wild orchids from Silver Creek canyon below Galice, dogwood blossoms and wild currant from fourteen miles up Applegate River, red bells from Meriin, trilliums from Louse Creek, and many other flowers from in and around Grants Pass. The afternoon was spent with needle work and later slips of paper were passed and each was asked to make a list of the different flowers in the room. The largest list contained seventeen names, but more could have been named. A general discussion of the wild flowers followed. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and tea were served by Mrs. Pattillo, Mrs. Churchill and Mrs. Pittenger. Another social afternoon of this nature will be held shortly as the many new people in the community make this kind of a gathering essential.

Hiawatha Program by Roosevelt School Will Be Interesting

The Hiawatha program which will be given by the Roosevelt school on Friday afternoon, April 26th, will contain many interesting features. The last number on the program, the singing of a new song, "Dear Old Oregon," by the whole school, is a vocal leading feature. This song was sung at a meeting held at Oregon City for the encouragement of civic improvement and enforcement of the laws by the Oregon City Glee Club. A copy was presented to Dr. Robert McLean which he gave to the school. The entire program for the afternoon's entertainment is as follows:

1. The Peace Pipe.
2. Hiawatha's Parting.
3. Hiawatha's Wooing.
4. Hiawatha's Wedding Feast.

5. Farewell to Minnehaha.
 6. The White Man's Foot.
 7. Hiawatha's Departure.
- Additional numbers:
1. Daisies, song by Second Grade.
 2. Nymph Dance, Third and Fourth Grade girls.
 3. Shoemaker Dance, Second Grade.
 4. Dear Old Oregon, song by entire school.

WINSOME KNITTED FROCKS IDEAL FOR LITTLE GIRLS

SOME of these fine spring days little laughter will most likely come pouring into the house declaring, "It is too warm to wear my coat." Of course one cannot blame any little girl for this burst of enthusiasm, for has not all nature cast off the mantle of winter? But what is mother to do? There are even in the best of regulated spring seasons unwary shifts of cold and heat, winds and rains, sunshine and shadow and little girls have such a way of catching cold at this time of the year.

With knitted dresses in fashion as charming as is shown in this picture why be in a quandary? Frocks of this type knitted of soft woolen yarns are ideal for play and school time. They protect, yet are not cumbersome; are "cozy" and practical.

The frock here pictured is knitted of red wool with white handings on the skirt. White braid forms the collar binding and the tie.

"This season's knitted outerwear for children is fashioned after the style of their elders. That is, the same sweater models one sees in the knitted department for grownups are reproduced in miniature for children. The tuxedo sweater coat, for instance, and slipover with neckline and color variations look like pocket editions of big sister's very own.

An especially attractive and desirable model in lilliputian size is knitted of downy brushed wool bordered with plain stitch, or else with revers of the same. It has long sleeves, tailored pockets and comes especially in camel color, gray or white.

The side button style suggesting the Jacquette delights the little girl because mother wears one so very like it.

There are slipovers for tiny tots with wide borders which show interknitted animal figures and these are adding joys to childhood not only in the way of comfort, but entertainment as well.

The long straight knitted capes for little girls are especially popular and they come in lovely colors. Surely every wee miss is going to aspire to the ownership of one of these cunning capes this season.

Tut, Tut, Daddy. Daughter (at the end of the opera) — "Isn't it too bad, daddy? The man who wrote this piece died two weeks ago." Father — "Did they find the murderer?"

FOREST PROTECTION URGED

not only bring out the lesson of "Fire Prevention" but portray a striking picture of the recreational possibilities of the Rogue River Valley. Among these photographs are several local scenes taken from this vicinity which are of much interest to the sportsmen and tourist.

The recreational feature makes this issue a popular one from its instant appeal to the tourist and visitor from other sections of the country. It is predicted that this number will be much in demand by local residents for the purpose of mailing to friends and relatives throughout the Eastern states. To provide for this additional demand the California-Oregon Power Company has secured a large number of extra copies which may be obtained from the local office.
