SENSIBLE AUTO LAWS NEEDED

In dealing with the problem of reducing traffic accidents there is much confusion of effort and waste of ideas, much proposed and so little done.

In view of the fact that 22,000 persons were killed and 678,000 injured in traffic accidents in this country last year, remedial measures are necessary.

School children, drivers, legislators, city fathers and police must be educated on this subject. There should be uniform traffic laws governing motor vehicles instead of the present confusion which provide a type of headlight in one state which is unlawful in an adjoining state; which subject a driver to arrest when he crosses a state line because of different traffic regulations with which he is not familiar; which require all automobiles to pass a trolley car on the left in one locality

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

action through the Woman's club, the Legion and other civic organizations.

We believe that it will be a comparatively simple problem to coordinate all these factors toward a definite end, viz: the production and consumption of home products wherever possible. If we can and do, it will be a long step toward greater prosperity.

And as we supply the demands of our market, we are preparing ourselves to produce and export for foreign markets. Other communities are doing it, and what they are doing, we can do.

We hope for a ready response to the call which will soon be made for the organization of the general committee.

Chas. M. Duncan, of Holland, was looking after business matters in Grants Pass this morning.

Mrs. F. B. Barnes, of Merlin, has left for Portland, where she will visit for the next week.

Opening Repair Shop

Robert Mansfield and son are opening a repair shop to be known as the Fixit Shop in the building next the First National bank. They will repair jewelry, watches and light machinery.

Attend Dedictory Exercises

Messrs. Sam H. Baker, R. S. Borland and Wilford Allen autoed to Wimer, on Evans creek, yesterday afternoon, to witness the dedication of the new union high school building. The bonds sold to raise finances to build the structure were purchased by the Grants Pass & Josephine bank, of which Mr. Baker is cashier, while the Borland Lumber company furnished some of the material used in its construction. A diversion following the dedication was created by Mr. Baker when he opened a crate of oranges and invited the boys of the school to an orange scramble on the school campus. It had all the excitement of a football contest.

Send Christmas Greens

city. Boy Scouts will get them. 75

Fishing Will Be Good

Fishing tomorrow will be good, provided the fishermen have the nerve to stick it out very long, according to Joe Wharton. The river has cleared to quite an extent.

SAMUEL GOMPERS PASSES

tinued at the helm until 1894, when he was defeated by John McBride, representing the coal miners.

He was again elected president the following year and led organized labor for many years thereafter.

For contempt of court in the famous Buck's stove case in 1903, Gompers was sentenced to one year imprisonment. An appeal was made to the United States Supreme Court and after dragging the case out 1914, the high court ruled that further action was barred by the statute of limitation and he was relieved from serving the sentence.

During his first five years as head of the American Federation of Labor Gompers received no salary, but was allowed his expenses, which amounted to $13 for the five years.
When the Federation underwent a reorganization in 1886 Gompers was given an annual salary of $10,000.

Including every important union in this country, the Federation became a powerful organization under the guidance of Gompers. He always successfully combated tendencies toward socialism in the ranks of the labor movement and was an earnest advocate of industrial conciliation.

It is said that Gompers settled more strikes by individual effort than any other man of labor history.

During the World War, Gompers kept the labor forces behind the government and served as chairman of the labor committee of the council of national defense. He also made several special governmental missions to Europe. He was a member of the American delegation of the conference on limitation of armaments.

Miller in Portland

While in Portland E. W. Miller is trying to ascertain what legislation the state highway commission wants from the 1925 session. Mr.
Miller, who is a hotel man of Grants Pass, is a newly elected member of the state senate and will be on the committee on roads and highways.
He says that Grants Pass is especially interested in seeing the Redwood highway section on the Oregon side of the line, completed, for over the Redwood highway will pour a steady stream of California tourists when the road is completed. The Oregon end of the Redwood highway is at Grants Pass, where it connects with the Pacific highway. In California the Redwood highway is a primary road and the Pacific highway is not, while in Oregon the position of the two roads is just the reverse. Mr. and Mrs. Miller are at the Multnomah—Oregonian.

OBITUARY

MRS. EMILY DAY

Emily Weatherly was born August 22, 1841, at Rome, Crawford county, Pa. She died December 10, 1924 at Grants Pass, Oregon.

She was married to Fayette Day at Waterford, Pa., on Oct. 4, 1866.

Mr. and Mrs. Day moved from Pennsylvania to Colorado, in 1870. From Colorado they came across the plains in a covered wagon in 1876, settling at Murphy, Oregon. Mr.
Day died at Murphy, July 17, 1900.

Mrs. Day moved to Grants Pass in 1908, where she resided until called by death.

She accepted Christ in her girlhood, and has been a constant member of the Baptist church since that time. She possessed the faculty of seeing the bright side of life, and her good cheer and happy disposition were well known among her many friends. She was the sort of woman that makes the best pioneer, citizen and Christian. She was a loyal member of the Gen. Logan W.
R. C.

Mrs. Day leaves two daughters, Mrs. Lulu Caldwell, and Mrs. Alida Swinden, and one son, Horace T.
Day, all of Grants Pass. One daughter, Dorothy Day Jennings, died on April 17, 1916. Mrs. Day leaves nine grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, one sister and one brother residing in Erie county, Pennsylvania, also a large number of other relatives.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Day fell and broke her hip, from which she suffered greatly, but patiently, until called. Soon after the accident Mrs. Day's sister-in-law, Mrs. Eva Weatherly, came and was constant in helping the family to care for her until the end.
