TURNING BACK THE PAGES

50 YEARS AGO from the Democrat-Herald September 20, 1968

Baker County's Community Chest workers were told Thursday at the kick-off lunch they are part of a team — they gather the money needed to support the work of the 26 agencies the money goes to and this lets the professional do the work he is trained in.

But, you must remember that the professional can't do the work he is trained to do if he has to spend part of his time seeking funds to enable his agency to operate, said Willis G. Johnson, associate director of the Oregon United Appeal, speaking at the Topz Cafe at the Lions meeting.

25 YEARS AGO from the Baker City Herald September 21, 1993

Photo: Crews from the U.S. Forest Service and the Powder River Correctional Facility have been cutting and piling shrubs, small trees and down limbs on one side of the Pipeline Road in the Baker City watershed. The goal is to reduce the amount of wood on the ground and thus reduce the fire danger. The Baker Ranger District is in the early stages of a project that includes similar work throughout the area.

10 YEARS AGO from the Baker City Herald September 22, 2008

For the first time in 22 years, Lorrie Andrews did not return to Burnt River High School at Unity to teach business classes or to lead Future Business Leaders of America when summer break ended.

Instead, she has moved from the classroom to the superintendent's office where she has assumed leadership of the smallest of Baker County's four school districts.

Andrews has been named superintendent and principal of the 50-student district in the county's southeastern corner. She replaces Robert Otheim, who led the district from 1995 to 2007.

ONE YEAR AGO from the Baker City Herald September 22, 2017

After heartfelt recognition for a job well done and best wishes for her future endeavors as her family moves from Baker City, the 5J School Board regretfully accepted the resignation of Melissa Irvine Thursday night.

OBITUARY

Zena Edwards

Baker City, 1919-2018

Zena Beryl Edwards, 98, of Baker City, died Sept. 19, 2018.

Her graveside service will be at 10:30 a.m. Monday at Mount Hope Cemetery After the service, friends are invited to join the family for a reception at the Baker Elks Lodge, 1896 Second St.

Zena was born on Dec. 6, 1919, at North Powder to Thelma Alice (Peterson) Lewis and Percy Hus-ton Lewis. She was the second daughter, born 1½ years after Fay and 1½ years before twin girls, Adele and Elaine.

When Fay started first grade at the small Wingville school, Zena begged to go with her. The teacher consented to let her start school (for just a few days). But, Zena did so well that she continued. Being an excellent student, she was able to keep up with the studies and graduated from Baker High School at the age of 16 in 1936.

We have all heard stories that the four pretty teenagers were given a stern warning by their parents to stay away from the wild and woolly neighbor boys by the last names of Rohner and Seig.

Zena and her sisters helped their parents in the drive-in restaurant and were probably among the first carhops in Baker. Zena's second job was at Stoddard Box Factory. Because "girls like to have fun," Zena and her girlfriends would attend the dances at the Odd Fellows Dance Hall. It was there that she met a handsome, tall, dark gentleman who would become her husband.

Zena and John Leonard Edwards were married at Weiser, Idaho, on April 16, 1937. They had two children, Janice and Denny. Zena became a full-time homemaker. She was excellent at that job also. Her house was always spotless and the food always made from scratch.

When her children were raised, she spent some time as a school bus driver. She tolerated no monkey business and the kids knew she meant it.

Her next job was as a bank teller for the US Bank, from which she retired in 1984.

Since that time she had enjoyed keeping her yard and flowers almost perfect. Many friends have commented how they enjoyed driving by and seeing Zena in her blue bonnet, mowing the lawn on the riding lawn mower. She was well into her 80s before she gave up the riding mower.

She loved golf, bowling and card playing. She played pinochle and loved bridge. Many local bridge players fondly remember Zena teaching them rules of the game and learning so much from her. She played bridge very well into her late 90s.

Survivors include her daughter, Janice Smull of Baker City; son, Gene Dennis Edwards (Geraldine) of Hermiston; grandchildren, Danna Rode Morgan (Floyd), Celeste Bennett (Vance), Dale Smull and Molly Smull, Joseph Edwards (Valerie) of Gilbert, Arizona, Sandra Edwards of Central Point, and Kathryn Schindler (Chris) of Cornelius; three stepgrandchildren: Richard L. Smith (Chrystal), David L. Smith (Ann), and Tamara Barkley (Bob). She is also survived by 10 great-grandchildren, four great-great grandchildren and many more stepgreat-grandchildren and stepgreat-great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Leonard; her sisters, Fay Edge, Adele Williams, and Elaine Leigh; her grandson, Christopher Smull; and her granddaughter-in-law, Sharry Smull.

In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to Eastern Oregon Regional Theatre for renovation of the Orpheum Theatre through Gray's West & Co. Pioneer Chapel, 1500 Dewey Ave., Baker City, OR 97814.
