TURNING BACK THE PAGES

50 YEARS AGO from the Democrat-Herald March 29, 1971

If the Baker County Court must approve of Gov. McCall's 14 Administrative Districts plan to receive funds to finance a tri-county youth care center, it seems Baker County will not participate in the program.

25 YEARS AGO from the Baker City Herald March 29, 1996

UNION CREEK CAMPGROUND — Logging usually is a loud business, with its snorting diesel engines and yelling men and grinding hydraulic arms.

Felled trees were piling up Thursday morning at this U.S. Forest Service campground on the north shore of Phillips Reservoir, but there was little ruckus to announce the fact.

10 YEARS AGO from the Baker City Herald March 30, 2011

The head of the Bonneville Power Administration was in Baker City Tuesday to talk about a proposed rate hike that could boost monthly bills for OTEC customers by as much as 7.5 percent starting in October.

ONE YEAR AGO from the Baker City Herald March 31, 2020

Cynthia Hauer is ready to bare her vein to save a life but first she has to slip a metal probe beneath her tongue.

Blood drives during the era of coronavirus aren't quite what they used to be.

Once Red Cross volunteer Myrna Evans has confirmed that Hauer doesn't have a fever — a symptom of coronavirus infection — Hauer fills out the necessary form and waits for her turn to donate a pint of blood.

Hauer, 44, of Baker City, was the first donor to arrive at the First Church of the Nazarene just after noon Monday.

Hauer, who has donated blood a few times, said that not only was she not concerned about her own health, she was motivated to donate by a blood shortage resulting from the coronavirus crisis.

The Red Cross reported on March 17 that the coronavirus pandemic had led to the cancellation of about 2,700 blood drives in the U.S., resulting in 86,000 fewer blood donations.

The issue isn't finding donors, said Bill Williard, a collection specialist for the Red Cross' Idaho/Montana region who helped coordinate Monday's blood drive in Baker City.

"We're seeing a lot of donors coming in — we just need a place to take them," said Williard, who has been working on blood drives every weekday since the coronavirus crisis started. "Donors are concerned, naturally, about everyone's health — that's why they're here in the first place. It brings out the best in people."

STORM

The temperature plummeted 13 degrees in 10 minutes at the Baker City Airport as a cold front moved through, dropping from 52 degrees at 10 p.m. to 39 degrees at 10:10 p.m.

The temperature dropped from 62 degrees at 8 p.m. to 38 degrees at 10:12 p.m.

A peak wind gust of 59 mph happened at 10:24 p.m., according to National Weather Service records.

Light snow was falling at the airport at that time.

The temperature plunge happened several hours after southwest winds brought balmy air into the area. The high temperature of 75 degrees at the airport tied the record for March 28, set in 1966. The average high temperature for the date is 52.

Lisa Britton/For the Baker City Herald

Justin Plumbtree of the Baker City public works department used a backhoe to push this mature fir tree, felled by a wind gust Sunday night, off Campbell Street.

Sunday was the warmest day at the airport in almost half a year. The high temperature on Oct. 9, 2020, was 81 degrees.

Tom Fisk, operations supervisor for the Baker City Public Works Department, said the city received one call about wind damage from the Baker City/County 911 Dispatch Center Sunday evening about 10:30.

A mature fir tree fell across Campbell Street between 11th and 12th streets, blocking the street.

Fisk said Justin Plumbtree, a public works employee, used a backhoe to push the tree out of the street.

A no-parking sign was topped at Washington Avenue and Resort Street, Fisk said.

A tree limb that fell across a power line cut electricity to about 1,025 Oregon Trail Electric Cooperative customers from about 3:30 a.m. to 6 a.m. on Monday, March 29, said Joseph Hathaway, communications manager for OTEC. The outage affected residents mainly in the downtown and east parts of town, from Hughes Lane south to Elm Street and Indiana Avenue.

There were four other wind-caused outages during the night, each affecting fewer than a dozen OTEC members, Hathaway said.

OBITUARIES

Donald Thomas

Former Baker County resident, 1983-2021

Donald "Donny" Thomas, 37, of Caldwell, Idaho, a former Baker County resident, died Feb. 20, 2021, at Halfway.

A service was held in Idaho earlier this month. There will be a celebration of his life on April 10, 2021, at 10 a.m. at Marshall Hall Park in Maryland. There will be a repast at St. Catherine's Hall in Welcome, Maryland.

Donny Thomas

Donald Lee Thomas was born on Sept. 25, 1983, at Laplata, Maryland. He was raised in Bryans Road and Indian Head, Maryland. Donnie graduated in 2000 with honors from Lackey High School where he played soccer. He went to work at Fachina Construction Co. right out of high school, where he was on a crew to rebuild the Pentagon after 9/11.

Donnie enjoyed rapping, drinking beer, hanging with friends, spending time with family and being outdoors, loving the summer and hating the winter. He enjoyed random adventures, hot springs, firefighting, telling jokes, listening to music, laughing and helping others. His favorite color was blue and his favorite team was the Buffalo Bills. He loved everything and put his heart into it, be it people or places, things or activities.

He especially loved his "Mom Lady," and his favorite catch phrases were "the wetter, the funner," or "Buffalup." Donnie saved dozens of communities by his service with wildland firefighting. He could always bring a smile to anyone's face and cheer anyone up.

Survivors include his daughters, Merissa Thomas and Tomi Jean Thomas; son, Donald Lee Thomas II; parents, Shirley and Larry Kugler and Mark Johnson; brothers, Bruce Hazel and Tony Kugler; sisters, Amy Binger and Nina Burwell; and grandparent, Donald J. Thomas.

A private Funeral Mass will be celebrated at St. Joseph's Mission in Unity. A celebration of Eleanor's life and disposition of her ashes will take place this summer at her home on the family ranch in Hereford.

found the best in others, and all who had the privilege of knowing Eleanor know what an amazing woman she truly was.

She is survived by her brother, Walt Ebell, and his wife, Dianna; her son, Dan "Boone" Sullivan and Molly McCoy; her daughters, Teresa Sullivan, Kathleen Sullivan and Mary Ann "Cookie" Wise and her husband, Wayne; six grandchildren, Jason Wise and his wife, Robyn, Daniel Sullivan and his wife, Melissa, Tara Phillips and her husband, Bill, Andrea Wilson, Justus Wise and Collin Jones; great-grandchildren Taytum, Morgan and Ethan Wise, Mirra and Sylvia Sullivan, Sawyer and Jylva, and soon-to-be Marshall Phillips; there are numerous cousins, nieces and nephews who always held a special place in her heart as well.
