Diane Lane and Kevin Costner

1 p.m. on FS1
MLB Baseball

Two NL teams seemingly headed in opposite directions get down to business today in Philadelphia, where Rhys Hoskins and the struggling Phillies continue a three-game series against Fernando Tatis Jr. and the San Diego Padres. While the talented Pods are in the thick of things in the West, the Phils have languished below .500 for much of the season, done in by a leaky bullpen and subpar defense.

5 p.m. on DIY
Point of View:
A Designer Profile

This new half-hour docuseries takes viewers inside the mind of gifted interior designers, revealing the creative process each one follows, as well as introducing the various influences and inspirations that often shape their designs. The premiere focuses on Jean Stoffer, an interior designer based in Grand Rapids, Mich., who reflects on the story of her own unlikely career. The episode also follows Stoffer as she works on her biggest project to date: the Madison, a huge and historic home in the Heritage Hill neighborhood.

8 p.m. on HBO
Movie: Let Him Go

Set in Montana during the mid-1960s, writer-director Thomas Bezucha's 2020 neo-Western adaptation of Larry Watson's 2013 novel stars Diane Lane and Kevin Costner as Margaret and George Blackledge, a senior couple who lose their adult son, James, in an accident. Jimmy's widow, Lorna (Kayli Carter), next marries Donnie (Will Brittain), who abuses both Lorna and her little boy, Jimmy. After Donnie abruptly moves his family away without notice, Margaret and George go in search of their young grandson, fearing the worst. Lesley Manville and Jeffrey Donovan also star.
