

STAMPEDE OVER TO ELGIN THIS WEEK

■ FOUR DAYS OF COWBOY FUN NOT TO BE MISSED!

ELGIN — The 74th Elgin Stampede, July 7-10, offers four days of rodeo action, parades and more.

The Stampede Grounds are special — there's not a bad seat in the house and everyone gets up close and personal with the action, claims www.elginstampede.com. The arena also boasts a larger-than-life video replay screen so every run can be watched again.

The 2021 Stampede kicks off Wednesday at 6 p.m. with Family Night — an all-kids rodeo where contestants compete in everything from stick-horse racing to steer riding. And it's free admission, thanks to Community Bank.

Thursday brings PRCA Xtreme Bulls and barrel racing, beginning at 7 p.m. Watch the best of the cowboys take on the best of the bulls. And in between bull riding sections, watch amazing cowgirls chase the cans.

PRCA action continues Friday at 7 p.m. with "Tough Enough to Wear Pink" night — a full PRCA rodeo with all of your favorite rodeo events.

Saturday starts off with an all-kids parade (no registration required — just show up) at 10 a.m. downtown, then the grand parade at 4 p.m. The Stampede concludes with a night of full rodeo excitement that night at 7 p.m.

According to the Elgin Stampede Facebook page, the Cowboy Channel will be joining the show this year, with all three Stampede rodeos recorded and broadcast on their station. This means you'll be able to access the recordings of the 74th Elgin Stampede on the Cowboy Channel and on the Cowboy Channel+ app on your mobile devices. Plus, Becky with Columbia River Circuit marketing will be at each performance, streaming live interviews with event winners.

Rodeo tickets are on sale online at www.elginstampede.com/p/tickets ($16, kids $11). Check out the website for more details.
