“Movie: Chaos Walking”

Tom Holland (“Captain America: Civil War”) stars as a young man who protects a mysterious woman (Daisy Ridley, “Star Wars: Episode VII — The Force Awakens”) in a dystopian world where all females have disappeared and all men are afflicted by a force that puts their thoughts on display in this 2021 actioner from director Doug Liman (“Swingers,” “Fair Game”).

“Movie: Love and Monsters”

After an Earth-bound asteroid is destroyed, a subsequent chemical fallout causes the world’s cold-blooded animals to mutate into large monsters who begin killing off most of humanity. Young Joel Dawson (Dylan O’Brien) manages to survive, although his parents are killed during an evacuation and Joel is separated from his girlfriend (Jessica Henwick). Dan Ewing and Michael Rooker also star in this 2020 fantasy adventure.

“Movie: Spell”

Director Mark Tonderai’s (“Hush”) 2020 horror thriller stars Omari Hardwick (“Power”) as a man who crash lands in Appalachia and awakens in the attic of a woman (Loretta Devine, “Family Reunion”) whose dark magic poses a threat to him and his family. John Beasley, Lorraine Burroughs and Hannah Gonera are also in the cast.

“Only Murders in the Building”

Steve Martin and John Hoffman are the creative forces behind this comedic murder mystery series that follows three strangers (Martin, Martin Short, Selena Gomez) with an obsession with true crime and find themselves wrapped up in the mystery surrounding a grisly death in their Upper West Side apartment building. Amy Ryan and Aaron Dominguez also star. (ORIGINAL)
