Oliver Stone's controversial portrait of Richard Nixon stars Anthony Hopkins as the former president. The film covers Nixon's childhood in a Quaker home, his rise in politics and his fall from grace after the Watergate scandal of the '70s. Joan Allen stars as Pat Nixon, Ed Harris plays E. Howard Hunt, and David Hyde Pierce plays attorney John Dean.

“Movie: Bull Durham”

Writer-director Ron Shelton's ("White Men Can't Jump") 1988 comedy became one of the year's funniest, sexiest hits as well as cementing Kevin Costner's stardom. Costner portrays a minor-league catcher who finds major-league romance with a baseball groupie (Susan Sarandon). Tim Robbins, Sarandon's real-life companion of many years, also stars.

“Movie: Felix and the Hidden Treasure”

From Canada comes this 2021 animated adventure that follows 12-year-old Felix, who takes advantage of his vacationing mother's absence to search for his father, a fisherman who disappeared at sea two years earlier. Karine Vanasse ("Cardinal"), Elias Harger ("Fuller House") and Guy Nadon head the voice cast.

“Movie: Minor Premise”

Competing with his father's legacy, a reclusive neuroscientist gets caught up in his own experiment that splits his consciousness into 10 fragment and pits them against one another in this 2020 sci-fi drama from first-time feature filmmaker Eric Schultz. Sathya Sridharan, Paton Ashbrook and Dana Ashbrook ("Twin Peaks") head the cast.
