8 p.m. on CW Whose Line Is It Anyway?

The CW expands its primetime series programming to Saturday this season, moving this longrunning game show into a new time period, starting tonight with two back-to-back episodes. In the first, host Aisha Tyler wel-comes guest comic Heather Anne Campbell, who joins cast regulars Ryan Stiles, Wayne Brady and Colin Mochrie for a series of improv games. Kevin McHale ("Glee") also makes a guest appearance. Immediately following, a second new episode features a guest appearance by boxing champ Laila Ali, with guest comic Jeff Davis getting his improv on with the guys.

8 p.m. on LIFE Movie: Dying to Belong

An updated remake of a 1997 TV movie starring Hilary Swank, Sarah Chalke and Mark-Paul Gosselaar, this new version stars Shannen Doherty as the mother of Riley (Jenike Rose), a shy, anxiety-prone college freshman who decides to rush the campus sorority where her mom once excelled. To Riley's delight, her new best friend Olivia (Favour Onwuka), a journalism student, joins Riley, although Olivia does so to gather information for an exposé on hazing practices. What she finds during her undercover investigation shocks her.

9 p.m. on SHOW Movie: Come Play

Solid performances by Gillian Jacobs ("Community") and John Gallagher Jr. ("The Newsroom") help anchor this 2020 horror thriller from writer-director Jacob Chase, who casts the pair as Sarah and Marty, the stressedout parents of a young nonverbal autistic boy, Oliver (Azhy Robertson). After his parents' marriage starts to crack, Oliver is playing with the smartphone he uses to communicate and notices a previously unnoticed app called "Misunderstood Monsters." In activating the app, however, Oliver inadvertently unleashes a dangerous entity. Winslow Fegley, Jayden Marine and Eboni Booth are featured.
