“Movie: Jacinta”

First-time documentarian Jessica Earnshaw’s deeply intimate portrait introduces viewers to Jacinta, a young Maine woman with a troubled past that includes addiction and imprisonment, who tries to maintain her sobriety and reconnect with her 10-year-old daughter Caylynn, despite being surrounded by the forces that led her into trouble in the first place. “Movie: Silent Night”

From the U.K. comes this 2020 crime drama about an ex-convict London hitman who tries to go straight for his daughter but gets drawn in for one last job by his former cellmate. Bradley Taylor, Cary Crankson, Frank Harper and Nathaniel Martello-White head the cast for first-time feature director Will Thorne.

“Movie: The Marksman”

Liam Neeson plays it grizzled once again in this 2021 actioner in which he stars as Jim, an ex-Marine living as a rancher on the Arizona/Mexico border whose peaceful existence is pre-empted when he takes in a boy on the run from a vicious cartel. Jacob Perez, Katheryn Winnick and Juan Raba also star for director Robert Lorenz (“Trouble With the Curve”).

“Taste the Nation With Padma Lakshmi”

The award-winning host, executive producer and cookbook author returns for this four-part “Holiday Edition,” in which she highlights unique holiday traditions through the lens of a different immigrant culture and city, such as Korean New Year in Los Angeles and Cuban Christmas in Miami. (ORIGINAL)
