“Movie: Gaia”

An injured park ranger's relief and gratitude soon turn to concern when he notices the father/son survivalists who rescued him from deep in the wild displaying an almost cultist devotion to the forest in this 2021 drama from South Africa. Monique Rockman, Carel Nel and Anthony Oseyemi head the cast for director Jaco Bouwer (“Rage”).

“Movie: The Evil Next Door”

From Sweden comes this 2020 horror/mystery about a young woman who moves to a new house with her boyfriend and his son. Soon, she's hearing mysterious noises coming from the uninhabited home next door and the boy is haunted by a sinister entity. Dilan Gwyn, Linus Wahlgren and Henrik Norlén head the cast.

“Movie: Sleepwalker”

A grad student seeks answers at her university's sleep research center after being plagued by bouts of sleepwalking and disturbing nightmares. But when she wakes up after her first night of being monitored, she finds the world has changed in subtle, surreal ways in this 2017 thriller from director Elliott Lester (“Nightingale”). Ahna O'Reilly, Richard Armitage and Izabella Scorupco star.

“Movie: Waitress”

Keri Russell plays the title character in this comedy, written and directed by independent-film favorite Adrienne Shelly (also a co-star here) before her murder. Jenna (Russell) is unhappy with her lot of a husband (Jeremy Sisto) but content with making pies she names after him — in none-too-flattering ways. Unexpectedly, she gets another chance for personal satisfaction with her gynecologist (Nathan Fillion). Andy Griffith co-stars.
