8 p.m. on OWN Ready to Love

The ladies find themselves in the driver's seat for the new episode "Sparks Will Fly ... or Fizzle," as two more blind dates arrive. Almost immediately, Erik and Dakiya click, while AP can't shake the feeling that Clifton looks somehow familiar. While Joi and Clifton get closer, Sabrina quickly dismisses Paul. One man is sent packing after the ladies collectively decide he just isn't ready for love.

8 p.m. on SHOW everything's gonna be all white

This new three-part docuseries from Emmy-nominated filmmaker Sacha Jenkins ("Wu-Tang Clan: Of Mics and Men") explores the history of race in America from the perspectives of people of color. The production — which continues on the next two Fridays — examines some of the root causes of racial inequity, including the generational effects of racism on housing, education and health care, as well as the unique struggle being fought by Indigenous populations to reclaim their lands from what feels like non-stop encroachment by outsiders.

9 p.m. on A&E Cold Case Files

This Emmy-nominated true-crime docuseries continues its sophomore season with "Dark Angel," which revisits the 1988 disappearance of Pam Pitts. Nearly two weeks later, her body is found at a popular hangout spot in the Arizona desert. Shortly thereafter, a second victim's remains are discovered in a mine-shaft, leading detectives to theorize the killer knew both these women. The truth, however, won't be discovered for decades.

9 p.m. on HIST Ancient Aliens

A new episode called "Recovering the Ark of the Covenant" revolves around a sacred relic of the ancient world that played a key role in the Steven Spielberg movie blockbuster "Raiders of the Lost Ark." This religious artifact was said to contain the two stone tablets of the Ten Commandments given by God to Moses. Roughly 2,600 years ago, however, the Ark vanished from human history. If found, many experts believe this item would offer strong proof that extraterrestrials figured into humanity's distant past. Giorgio A. Tsoukalos is the host.
