"Movie: Nightmare Alley"

From Oscar-winning director Guillermo del Toro ("The Shape of Water") comes this 2021 crime drama that stars Bradley Cooper as Stanton Carlisle, a con man who hatches a plan to bilk a tycoon with the help of a mysterious psychiatrist, who may turn out to be his most formidable opponent yet. Rooney Mara, Cate Blanchett, Ron Perlman and Toni Collette are also in the talented cast.

"Movie: The Space Between"

Rachel Winter directed this offbeat 2021 comedy set in 1990s-era Los Angeles. Kelsey Grammer stars as Micky Adams, a once-successful rock musician whose increasingly eccentric output leads his record company to decide he's a fiscal liability. Charlie Porter (Jackson White), an ambitious young mailroom employee, brashly accepts the task of traveling to Micky's home and forcing him out of his contract. An improbable friendship soon forms.

"Movie: The Shape of Water"

Guillermo del Toro won an Academy Award and a Golden Globe for his direction of this dark, lyrical 2017 fantasy, which also took the Oscar as the year's best picture. Sally Hawkins also got an Oscar nod for playing a mute custodian at a government facility who falls in love with an amphibious humanoid creature (Doug Jones) who has been brought in for study.

"Movie: The King's Man"

The origin story of the titular intelligence agency is told in this 2021 actioner from co-writer, co-producer and director Matthew Vaughn ("Kingsman: The Golden Circle"), which follows one man's race against time to stop the worst tyrants and criminals from wiping out millions of people. Ralph Fiennes, Gemma Arterton, Rhys Ifans and Djimon Hounsou head the cast.
