CAR SHOW CRUISES INTO ECHO MAY 28

ECHO — The Echo Parent Teacher Organization is gearing up for the Echo Car Show & Concert on Saturday, May 28, in downtown Echo.

Vehicle registration ($25 or $5/student division) is open 9 a.m. to noon. Top entries will receive special trophies created by industrial arts students.

The car show runs from noon to 4 p.m., with awards presented at 3 p.m. Purchase a "ticket to ride" for $5 for a chance to cruise in style at the conclusion of the show.

The afternoon also features a kid zone with games and activities. Student groups will fundraise at various food and concession booths. And pick up some raffle tickets ($1 each or six for $5) for a chance to win prizes.

Closing out the event is a concert with Shanks Pony. The Walla Walla band will crank things up from 6-9 p.m. at Echo Ridge Cellars, 551 N. Thielson St. All ages are welcome, but children must be supervised.

The Echo FFA Meats team will serve a meal and non-alcoholic beverages as a fundraiser. Also, beer and wine will be available for purchase through Echo Ridge.

GRANDE RONDE COMMUNITY CHOIR PRESENTS CONCERT

LA GRANDE — Art Center

East announces "How Can I Keep From Singing?" — the first Grande Ronde Community Choir concert in more than two years. The concert is free, and starts at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 2, in McKenzie Theatre on the Eastern Oregon University campus.

This term the choir, open to community members ages 14 and older, has 40 members. Several of the GRCC singers will perform as soloists. The non-audition choir is accompanied on piano by Lanetta Paul, Matthew Carlsen and Mio Aoike.

"One of the songs I selected for the choir is 'How Can I Keep From Singing?' and that became our theme for the term," said Michael Frasier, GRCC musical director. "All the songs are uplifting and positive, as is our long-awaited group singing!"

Donations at the door go to Art Center East's community music program, which includes community ensembles like Grande Ronde Community Choir and Community African Drumming as well as private music lessons for children, teens and adults.
