tonight's best

Aileen Wuorno

8 p.m. on HALL
Movie: Caribbean Summer

In the wake of an embarrassing blunder during a live telecast of the morning TV news show she produces, Jade's (Heather Hemmens, "Roswell, New Mexico") bosses order her to take a vacation to clear her head. Accordingly, she heads off to a beautiful, stress-free island in the Caribbean, but almost immediately runs into a screw-up involving the house she rented for her stay. Once that gets resolved, however, Jade finds herself falling under the spell of her home's enigmatic owner, Ford (Ser'Darius Blain), in this 2022 romance.

8 p.m. on HBO
Movie: The Card Counter

Writer-director Paul Schrader earned mostly enthusiastic reviews for this 2021 crime thriller, which stars Oscar Isaac in the central role of William Tell, a gambler who taught himself how to count cards while serving an eight-year stint in a military prison. Now a free man, William tries to fly under the radar in casinos by winning smaller jackpots that don't attract notice. In Atlantic City, he's approached by a young man (Tye Sheridan) seeking William's help to gain revenge on a common enemy (Willem Dafoe).

9 p.m. on A&E
First Blood

This new true-crime docuseries looks at some of the most notorious serial killers in American history through the lens of their first murder, which may reveal what drove them to that violent moment. Among the murderers profiled in this 10-episode presentation are Richard Ramirez (aka the Night Stalker), Ed Kemper (the Co-ed Killer) and Robert Hansen (the Butcher Baker). The series premiere, however, puts the spotlight on a deadly female in "Aileen Wuornos: The Damsel of Death."

10:01 p.m. on A&E
Panic 9-1-1

Season 3 of this docuseries, which frames its stories with audio from real-life 9-1-1 emergency calls, opens with "I'm Dying," which includes an incredible distress call from a Florida woman begging for help when her out-of-control estranged husband turns up and starts shooting at her through the front door. In other segments, a terrified young mother calls from her car when her brakes fail on a busy highway.
