

What's Available NOW On hulu

“Dragons: The Nine Realms”

In Season 2 of this animated fantasy series, more expeditions deeper into the fissure make keeping dragons a secret much harder for the Dragon Riders. At the same time, Jun, D'Angelo and Alex are growing more suspicious of Tom and Thunder's frequent solo quests, revealing Tom's mission of uncovering his viking heritage and mysterious connection with dragons. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Merry Kissmas”

At Christmastime, a magical kiss in an elevator forces a woman to choose between her changed former lover and a guy who blew her away in this 2015 comedy drama from director Michael Feifer (“A Christmas Wedding Tail,” “The Work Wife”). Karissa Staples (“Necessary Roughness”), Brant Daugherty (“Pretty Little Liars”) and Brittany Underwood (“One Life to Live”) star.

“Movie: The Spruces and the Pines”

Despite being from feuding Christmas tree farm families, heirs Julie (Jonna Walsh, “Couples Retreat”) and Rick (Nick Ballard, “The Stunt Double”) fall in love and must keep their romance a secret in this 2017 comedy drama from director John Stimpson (“Christmas a la Mode,” “Christmas on Ice”). Tom Kemp and Ken Cheeseman also star.

“Movie: It's a Wonderful Bing”

Like its 2020 predecessor “The Binge,” this 2022 sequel is set in a near future where drugs and alcohol are illegal except on the one day of the Binge, only here it happens to fall on Christmas. Holiday adventures fueled by intoxication ensue. Returnees include Eduardo Franco, Dexter Darden, Marta Piekarcz, Nick Swardson, Kaitlin Olson and director Jordan VanDina. (ORIGINAL)

celebrity quotes

“He's a good dude with an amazing life, so getting to know him and hear his stories was fun research. There was nothing like work about it.” – Tom Everett Scott, seen recently in “Dolly Parton's Mountain Magic Christmas” on NBC, on playing Parton's real-life production partner Sam Haskell in the film

“The honor of getting to wear those costumes alongside these women ... I felt undeserving, just knowing how much hard work they have done to stand in these costumes, to stand on this stage, to wear these shoes in front of 6,000 people.” – Ginna Claire Mason, seen recently in “A Holiday Spectacular” on Hallmark Channel, about playing a Rockette in the movie

“I love Lifetime movies anyway, but I think this one is a cut above. It's not hokey or formulaic at all.” – Jane Seymour, seen recently in “A Christmas Spark” on Lifetime, on her opinion of the film