WHEN SUBSCRIPTIONS EXPIRE

The figures following the date of the month on your paper or label are for the year only. Thus "Jan. 21" means "January 1, 1921" and "April 27" means "April 1, 1922." The Sentinel has no expiration dates except on the first of some month. It saves so much time in bookkeeping to have only 12 expiration dates in the entire year, instead of three hundred and sixty-five that we are glad to give you one, two, or three free papers, if need be, to have it that way. Your subscription for the Sentinel, if it does not expire February first, will expire March first or on the first day of some succeeding month.

E. E. Hampton, of Arago, was in town Wednesday and Thursday.

Our old friend, W. H. Hull, of Riverton, was a caller Wednesday. He celebrated his eightieth birthday last month, and is holding his own pretty well for a man of that age.

If you want a farm or city property see me. I have some very desirable farm and city property for sale.

T. A. Walker, Farmers & Merchants Bank Bldg., Coquille, Ore.

When the sun came at us in full force yesterday from a cloudless sky we found it had more pep than the last time it shone. Where it peered through glass hot house conditions prevailed.

Spectacles and eye glasses quickly and skillfully repaired. Broken lenses duplicated. Optical repairs of all kinds done while you wait. Glasses fitted. By V. R. Wilson, "Optometrist," Coquille, Oregon.

The Oregon Farmer is still furnished for $2.15 in connection with the Sentinel, and why its publishers shouldn't ask a dollar and a half a year for a paper as good as they furnish, we don't understand.

W. E. Matthews, who has been running a grocery at Powers for the past couple of years, but who was an old resident of the Fairview section, fell dead of heart disease in his store Tuesday.

Lloyd H. Irvine, who with his wife came in for a visit with his parents a couple of weeks ago, intends to leave about the first of the month for Corvallis where he will take a course at O. A. C.

Wm. Richardson, who lives out near the old Academy, suffered a slight stroke of paralysis the first of the week, affecting his right arm. He is now able to walk down town, however, for treatment.

Jno. E. Ross returned Wednesday afternoon from Portland where he went last week. He stopped over a day in Salem on the return trip. Mrs. Ross stopped over in Marshfield and returned home yesterday morning.

City Cleaners and Tailors are now open for business in the Shores Bldg., Front St. First class cleaning, pressing and repairing. Satisfaction guaranteed. Suit made to measure. See our line of fine samples: Phone 1083.

Tuesday morning it looked a little as if the day might be a fair one but no dependence can be placed on such indications. With a southwest wind and an ominous cloud in that quarter, by noon it had settled down to the "regular order" a steady rainfall.

Attorney A. K. Peck, of Marshfield, who was on his way from Salem, where he is one of the legislative assistants, failed to receive a call at the Osborn at Eugene last Saturday morning, and so did not reach home until Monday afternoon.

Frank Dungey, who has just returned from the Puget Sound country, says that many of the world war veterans are offering to sell the bonus to be given them by the state of Washington for one-half its face; in order to get the cash 30 days earlier than they otherwise would.

W. H. Vose, M. D., specializing in eye, ear, nose and throat and fitting of glasses, announces that he will be in Bandon every Monday; Marshfield every Wednesday; Lockhart building; and Myrtle Point every Friday. Home office, Collier Apartments, Coquille, Phone 861.

H. E. Shelley says he has seen lots more rain than we have had here this winter. He was 20 years in Aberdeen, Wash., where the average rainfall is 120 inches a year against about 60 inches here. He remembers one winter there when eleven feet of snow fell and the ground was not clear until April.

Rev. W. S. Smith, of Bandon will preach at the Presbyterian church here next Sunday, January 23, morning and evening. The following Sunday, (Jan. 30), he informs us that Rev. Boudnot Seelye, the Synodical secretary at Portland who hold the highest position in the state in that denomination will be here.

The members of the Federated Missionary Society, to the number of about forty, met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. L. Asen and enjoyed a very interesting program including papers by Mrs. Wm. Richardson, Mrs. Ida Faustman and Mrs. M. O. Hawkins. Later they had a lunch at the home of Mrs. H. W. Young.

The first thing on the program at Dr. Banks' meeting at the Methodist church Tuesday night was the vote on the flag award, which is a regular feature of these anti-saloon meetings. In this case Mrs. Calvin Mace's fourth grade room received the most votes and a beautiful flag was presented to her for that room at the close of the meeting.

A. B. Gant, of the Fox bridge neighborhood, was doing business in this city Tuesday. The roads are not so bad but that he was able to drive down there with a buggy, and he is expecting to have an improved road all the way by next winter. He has lived in Coos county 34 years, and has never seen a winter that would compare with this for excessive and well distributed moisture.

At a business meeting of the Coquille Club last evening it was decided to hold another dance and party in the club rooms early in February. Permission was also granted the American Legion to hold a smoker next Monday evening in honor of Dr. S. J. Sparks, after the lyceum lecture, to which members of the club, the Commercial Club and business men generally are invited.

Mrs. Sinclair Entertains Saturday afternoon of last week Mrs. Walter Sinclair entertained a few friends at "500" for the pleasure of Mrs. W. J. Longston. Mrs. F. L. Greenough made high score and was given a very pretty piece of glassware. A delicious lunch was served and the guests had a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon.

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.50.

Coos Bank to Coos
Frank Dungey, who went up to Co-drip-Wesley, Washington, and bought a home there, expecting to remain permanently, returned Sunday. He paints a rather gloomy picture of conditions there. The mills have cut wages twice, cutting them to $3 a day and then to $2. All the workmen were willing to keep on at $3 and most of them at $2 but the state labor board forbade them to run at the latter price, so that those who can't get away are learning the I. W. W. creed and Bolshevism. The proportion of laborers in that section who have adopted these doctrines is almost beyond belief, and Dungey expressed himself as immensely glad to get back to Coos county where there is something doing and people are not getting wrong in their heads.

Wrong Man Gets Cold
Editor McDaniel, of the Coos Bay Harbor, and the Sentinel senior were the only men from Coos county at the newspaper conference at the State University at Eugene last Friday and Saturday. Of rights the writer, who took a 20-mile auto ride between five and six o'clock Friday evening without an overcoat, should have been the one to come home with a hard cold, but it was Bro. McDaniel who was thus afflicted instead. Just what we were expected to see in being whirled out towards the North Pole on the Junction City highway over the level prairie an hour after dark, we haven't yet decided. But an editorial assemblage would not, of course, be complete without an auto ride.

J. A. Lamb Made President
The Coos & Curry Counties Retail Hardware Dealers association met in Marshfield Tuesday. John W. Miller went over from here and was elected secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year. J. A. Lamb did not go and was elected president of the organization. Practically all of the Coos and Curry dealers were in attendance, about forty plates being served at the banquet in the Chandler Hotel that evening. It is planned to have their semi-annual meeting and banquet in Coquille next summer.

Carload of Sand in the Mud
A carload of sand was being unloaded by the Southern Pacific Wednesday and scattered around the depot where it would help most to keep pedestrians out of the mud. Supt. Mercier has written Councilman Mansell that the road has not even sufficient gravel to ballast the main line but as soon as a supply is available several carloads will be shipped in here to improve the roads and platforms at the station.

Coquille Is the Hub
Coquille is to be the hub of the Coast Auto Line, elsewhere advertised. As soon as the roads are in shape, this company expects to run cars from Marshfield, through Coquille and Myrtle Point to Roseburg and also down the coast by way of Bandon and Gold Beach to the California line. Its managers, Geo. W. Bryant, of Myrtle Point, and V. C. Gorst, of North Bend, have been looking around for a suitable location for a "stage station" here.

Business and Social Meeting
A business and social meeting of the younger "500" club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Hal Pierce, Tuesday evening. Besides sewing and conversation a guessing contest was held in which Mrs. Eva Currie and Miss Edna Harlocker won first and last places and were awarded beautiful hand-embroidered handkerchiefs. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess and the girls remained until a late hour.

Probate Court Items
Attorney John G. Mullen, of North Bend, filed a petition for the administration of the estate of Wm. Ray Hart on Tuesday. The estate consists of $4,000 real estate and $500 personal. The heirs are his widow, Mary Hart and two sons, Glenn and Roscoe.
Attorney Thompson, of Myrtle Point, filed the same day a petition for the administration of the estate of David Smalley, late of Coquille. This consists of $3,000 in real property and $300 personal. The heirs are his father and mother, Andrew and Emma Smalley, and his sister, Etta Smalley.
Attorney Wm. T. Stoll, of Marshfield, filed a petition Jan. 17 for the administration of $250 worth of real property left by Jacob M. Blake, of San Francisco, who died last month.

It only costs 15 cents more to get the Oregon Farmer when subscribing for the Sentinel, and everyone agrees it is the biggest 15 cents' worth of reading they ever saw. The Farmer is issued weekly.

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.50.

EVEREADY SAFETY LIGHTS

The light that says "There it is!"

LOOK out for that tack!!
Don't let the dark trip you. Don't stumble over a chunk of night. Don't trip on a chair wrapped in blackness. Don't fall victim to the garden rake or the baby's tin soldiers that lie in wait for your bare feet.

Don't flirt with fickle night. Go where you want to and get what you go after, and do it decently.

Take an EVEREADY into the night—and make things easy. You'll need it before bed-time.
