It Is Not a Path of Roses

Constable P. W. Goodman says that all is not clear sailing for the prohibition officer, although he always has the advantage of the suspected persons. He was recalling his experience at the John Coy ranch below Bandon, where he and Sheriff Ellingsen last week found the evidence of a still and some moonshine in quart fruit jars. When the officers entered the home they found a formidable woman resenting their entrance, and while proceeding with the search they were hampered materially. Mr. Goodman finally discovered some two-quart jars beneath some cloth, but on taking one of the jars, the defender of the home grabbed it away from him.

He then took the other one, but before he could get away with it, the other jar was thrown at him, striking the one he held and breaking off the top. His thumb was slightly cut in the fray, but he had sufficient of the contents left to serve the purpose. But his antagonist was not so easily circumvented and chased him about the house and into the yard, in quest of spilling the remainder of the moonshine. Mr. Goodman finally was rescued by the sheriff and the officers proceeded to Bandon with their evidence.—News.

American Legion Notes

Tuesday evening the local post of the American Legion met and many plans were laid for the future. It was decided to give a masquerade dance Feb. 22 and all efforts will be bent toward making it the biggest event of the season.

Mrs. Faustman reported 13 signers for the Woman's Auxiliary of the Legion. Temporary officers for the organization have been elected as follows: Mrs. G. E. Low, president; Mrs. Grace Norton, vice president; Ida Oerding, secretary, and Mrs. Emma Shelley, treasurer. There will be a meeting Monday at 8 p. m. in the City Hall. Both those who have signed up and those who have not, are requested to be present.

It is now past time to pay dues in the Legion. All the boys who have not paid to date are urged to do so. After the 28th of this month any one not paid up will be dropped and in order to again become a member they will be forced to pay their initiation fee again, besides their dues. So wake up, Buddies, and pay your dues.

Any ex-soldier, who has not received the clothes, back pay, bonus, Victory Medal, State Medal, lost baggage, etc., can obtain blanks on which to make requisition for what he is entitled to. You obtain blanks from Lans Leneve.

Slippery Gulch! It's coming and will be at Gould's hall next week. Watch for advertising. It's the greatest thing the Legion ever put over.

Use Soft Pencil Please

Our correspondents are earnestly requested not to write with a lead pencil, unless it is a No. 2 or there is strength enough in their arms to provide a No. 1 legibility. Our own eyes are pretty good for a septuagenarian, but our linotype operator may have to use here a long time yet, and nothing is harder on them than "dim" copy. Don't under any circumstances use a No. 1 pencil or one with hard fillers.
